

General Capabilities

Critical and creative thinking

In the English curriculum, students develop critical and creative thinking through listening to, reading, viewing, writing, creating and presenting texts. They also develop critical and creative thinking through interacting with others, creating and experimenting with literary texts, and discussing the aesthetic or social value of texts.

Through close analysis of texts, students critically analyse the opinions, perspectives and unstated assumptions embedded in texts. They develop critical thinking as they express personal responses and preferences, state and justify their points of view, and respond to the views of others. Students develop creative thinking skills by considering authors' innovations, and planning, exploring and creating ideas for imaginative texts. They develop creative thinking when they use and adapt language to represent novel ideas.

Digital literacy

Through the English curriculum, students develop the ability to use digital tools to communicate and collaborate, and read and access information. They use a range of tools to create and edit digital and multimodal texts and presentations. They select and evaluate sources, and respect intellectual property. They consider the suitability of information, audience and online safety when using digital tools.

Ethical understanding

In the English curriculum, students develop ethical understanding as they explore ethical issues within real-world and fictional settings. They identify moral messages, ethical concepts, bias and stereotypes, and their representation in texts. As students develop their understanding, they compare, evaluate and discuss how these messages are created through language. Students analyse ethical perspectives on contemporary issues. They evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the ways in which arguments are represented.

Intercultural understanding

In the English curriculum, students develop ethical understanding as they explore ethical issues within real-world and fictional settings. They identify moral messages, ethical concepts, bias and stereotypes, and their representation in texts. As students develop their understanding, they compare, evaluate and discuss how these messages are created through language. Students analyse ethical perspectives on contemporary issues. They evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the ways in which arguments are represented.

Literacy

In the English curriculum, literacy is developed through the study of the English language in all its spoken, written and visual forms. Literacy equips students with the skills to confidently listen to, read, view, speak, write and create texts in all learning areas. As students develop literacy skills, they understand how language use is determined by different contexts. They develop the skills to acquire and build knowledge and understanding, and to communicate their emotions, opinions and ideas with others. Through analysing, interpreting and evaluating a range of texts, students understand language features and conventions, and are exposed to a broad vocabulary.

Numeracy

In the English curriculum, students use numeracy skills to communicate, read and evaluate information that includes quantities, statistics and patterns, including visual patterns. They use numeracy skills to understand and present evidence and substantiate ideas. They determine, examine and comment on any possible bias that is present in numerical data and quantitative sources.

Personal and social capability

Through the English curriculum, students develop personal and social capabilities as they learn that language is central to personal and social identity. When engaging with a range of texts, students explore diverse perspectives and how these shape different interpretations and responses. Interacting with others in formal and informal settings helps students to become effective communicators. They are able to articulate their opinions and collaborate with others. Through close reading and discussion of texts, students experience and evaluate different personal and social behaviours and perspectives. They develop connections and empathy with characters in different contexts.

Pre-primary

Year Level Description

In the early childhood phase of schooling, learning, development and wellbeing are connected and learning builds on the Early Years Learning Framework and each child's funds of knowledge. A holistic curriculum that integrates knowledge, understandings, skills, values and attitudes across learning areas connects learning to children's lives and their natural curiosity about their world.

English provides opportunities for children to learn through an orchestrated blend of play, deliberate and intentional teaching, and spontaneous experiences and actions.

In Pre-primary, children act with intentionality and agency to develop an understanding that English is the shared language of the learning environment, used to interact and communicate with known audiences for different purposes and to meet their personal needs and interests. English provides children with opportunities to develop their control and understanding of the symbolic representations associated with written language. They draw on their funds of knowledge to make connections to the English curriculum and explore concepts through a range of modes of communication, including music, dance, movement, storytelling, visual arts, and drama.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when children actively question, analyse and evaluate the texts they engage with. Children begin to learn about the structure and purpose of texts.

Children engage with a range of texts for enjoyment and learning. They listen to, read and view spoken, written and multimodal texts that include traditional oral tales; imaginative and informative picture books; various types of print, oral and digital stories; rhyming verse, poetry, songs and chants; film and animations; dramatic performances; presentations; conversations and discussions; non-fiction texts; and websites and other digital media. In Pre-primary, children develop their reading in a text-rich environment through engagement with a range of texts, including:

- literature that reflects and expands their world, and supports learning in English and across the curriculum
- texts that support children as meaning makers and enables them to share feelings and thoughts about texts
- texts for beginning readers that systematically introduce words with a limited number of phoneme–grapheme correspondences and add phoneme–grapheme correspondences as proficiency develops
- texts that support developing readers, including authentic literary texts that involve straightforward sequences of events and everyday happenings, some less familiar content, a small range of language features, including simple and compound sentences, high-frequency words, and other words that can be decoded using developing phonic knowledge
- authentic, informative texts that reflect their interests and curiosities.

Children create short imaginative and informative texts that may include some words, images and/or gestures to create texts that may include retells or adaptations of stories, messages, short recounts, thoughts and opinions, and dramatic performances for a known purpose and audience. Children make choices about texts according to their interests and curiosities.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Children actively listen to texts, interact with others and create short spoken texts, including retelling stories. They share thoughts and opinions, likes and dislikes, and retell events or key ideas with peers and adults. They listen for and use language features, including vocabulary and phrases from learning experiences and texts. They listen for and identify rhymes, sound patterns and sounds (phonemes) in words. They orally blend and segment phonemes in single-syllable words. They transfer information learned across multiple contexts to demonstrate features of speaking and listening; for example, using topic-specific vocabulary during activities and play.

Reading and Viewing

Children listen to, read, view and comprehend a range of texts. They actively construct meaning by making personal connections to characters, events and settings. They make predictions, respond to and pose questions when discussing texts and identify some differences between imaginative and informative texts. They engage with texts for personal reasons, including for enjoyment and to demonstrate reading behaviours. They identify some language features of familiar texts, such as typical beginnings, endings or characters. They name the letters of the English alphabet and know and use the most common sounds (phonemes) represented by these letters (graphs) and manipulate sounds in single-syllable words. They associate most common sounds with letters to read words, including consonant–vowel–consonant words and some high-frequency words to make meaning.

Writing and Creating

Children retell stories, report information and state their thoughts, feelings and key ideas about real or imagined events. Children create short written and multimodal texts using words and images where appropriate and understand that their texts can reflect their own experiences. They begin to transfer and use words and phrases that have been taught or explored in texts. Their writing shows evidence of beginning writing behaviours, such as directionality. They experiment with capital letters and full stops. They use letter and sound knowledge to spell most consonant–vowel–consonant words.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Explore how language is used differently at home, in school and in communities depending on the relationships between people

For example:

- interacting with adults and peers in a range of situations, such as play, role-play and partner, group and whole class activities to experiment with language
- using the home languages of the diverse cultures represented to explore how languages build social and personal connection, such as greetings and songs

WAPELAI1

Literacy Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Explore different ways of using language to express opinions, likes and dislikes

For example:

- participating in informal discussions during the day about their interests and curiosities
- using connecting words, such as when and but, when exploring the language of opinion
- experimenting with comparative language, such as good, better, best

WAPELAI2

Literacy Personal and social capability

Text structure, organisation and features

Understand that texts can take many forms, such as signs, books and digital texts

For example:

- exploring different text forms and engaging with their features, such as commenting on the purpose of a sign or discussing a photograph in an informative book
- exploring how different texts affect an audience, and can prompt emotional reactions, such as picture books can be shared for enjoyment

WAPELAT1

Literacy Digital literacy

Recognise that some language in written texts is unlike everyday spoken language

For example:

- knowing words and phrases like Once upon a time, said the boy and the end that are commonly used in stories but are not typically used in everyday language
- identifying some subject-specific language in informative texts
- exploring repetition and rhyme in texts

WAPELAT2

Literacy

Explore conventions of print and screen, including how books and simple digital texts are usually organised

For example:

- identifying English text direction of left to right and top to bottom
- developing print awareness by exploring the ways words and images are placed in texts
- using navigation features to read a digital text, such as using the scroll bar to continue viewing a text on a website

WAPELAT3

Literacy

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Recognise that sentences are key units for expressing ideas

For example:

- exploring how oral sentences express meaning, such as in questions or statements
- exploring how sentences in written texts contain a full idea and make sense
- responding to who, when, what and where questions to add information to sentences when needed

WAPELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Recognise that sentences are made up of groups of words that work together in particular ways to make meaning

For example:

- communicating the ideas represented in sentences, such as identifying that the sentence The cat ate its dinner is about a cat that ate

WAPELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Explore the contribution of images and words to meaning in stories and informative texts

For example:

- interacting with images in picture books, short films and other multimodal texts and discussing what they are communicating to the reader or why they were included

WAPELALA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Recognise and develop awareness of vocabulary used in familiar contexts related to everyday experiences, personal interests and topics taught at school

WAPELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Identify punctuation as a feature of written text different from letters; recognise that capital letters are used for names, and that capital letters also signal the beginning of sentences while punctuation marks signal the end

For example:

- sorting letters into upper- and lower-case
- identifying full stops, question marks and exclamation marks in texts and experimenting with their use when writing

WAPELALA5

Literacy

Phonic and word knowledge

Recognise and generate rhyming words, alliteration patterns, syllables and sounds (phonemes) in spoken words (phonological awareness)

For example:

- listening for, identifying and generating rhyming pairs, such as funny/money
- using alliteration, such as happy Harry, to explore phonemes

WAPELAP1

Literacy

Segment sentences into individual words and orally blend and segment single-syllable spoken words; isolate, blend and manipulate phonemes in single-syllable words (phonological awareness)

For example:

- clapping and counting the words in sentences
- segmenting and blending words orally, such as mat, ship, with, truck
- identifying, deleting or substituting beginning, medial and final sounds in single-syllable words, such as hot – pot, hot – hit, hot – hop

WAPELAP2

Literacy

Recognise and name all upper- and lower-case letters (graphs) and know the most common sound that each letter represents

For example:

- exploring phoneme–grapheme correspondences discovered in meaningful contexts, such as shared reading or in environmental print
- identifying and recalling phoneme–grapheme correspondences, such as common initial sounds (phonemes)
common consonant digraphs, such as , , (voiced/unvoiced)
common phoneme–grapheme correspondences, such as when makes the [z] sound in the final position in words such as is, was, his short vowel sounds[a] hat,[e] pet,[i] tip,[o] hot,[u] tubpresented early in the sequence to combine with consonants
- common initial sounds (phonemes)
- common consonant digraphs, such as , , (voiced/unvoiced)
- common phoneme–grapheme correspondences, such as when makes the [z] sound in the final position in words such as is, was, his
- short vowel sounds[a] hat,[e] pet,[i] tip,[o] hot,[u] tubpresented early in the sequence to combine with consonants

WAPELAP3

Literacy

Write consonant–vowel–consonant (CVC) words by representing sounds with the appropriate letters, and blend sounds associated with letters when reading CVC words

WAPELAP4

Literacy

Use knowledge of letters and sounds to spell words

For example:

- using knowledge of letter names when spelling words, such as mi (my) and hape (happy)
- using knowledge of sounds to spell words, such as yung (young) and workt (walked)

WAPELAP5

Literacy

Read and write some high-frequency words and other familiar words

For example:

- reading and writing familiar words, such as names or environmental words
- reading and writing frequently occurring words, such as a, and, for, he, in, is, it, of, that, the, to, was, you

WAPELAP6

Literacy

Explore how words are units of meaning and can be made of more than one meaningful part

For example:

- recognising when an s is added to a base word, such as ball, it makes a plural
- exploring how ed indicates past tense when added to a word, such as talk, talked
- recognising that an antonym of a word can be made by adding a prefix, such as unhappy

WAPELAP7

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Share ideas about stories, poems and images in literature, reflecting on experiences that are similar or different to their own by engaging with texts by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors and illustrators

For example:

- listening to a literary text, such as a poem set in the Australian bush, and talking about connections to their own experiences
- re-enacting scenarios of a favourite story, poem or experience in a role-play environment

WAPELIC01

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Personal and social capability

Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Respond to stories and share feelings and thoughts about their settings, events and characters

For example:

- sharing thoughts and ideas about a story, such as orally discussing favourite storybook characters or by drawing pictures of a favourite event

WAPELIEN1

Literacy

Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Recognise different types of literary texts and identify features, including setting, events, characters, and beginnings and endings

For example:

- identifying and discussing features common to specific literary texts, such as real and imaginary characters who may be found in stories about the Australian bush, events that typically occur in fiction stories, such as fairytales, or typical beginnings and endings in fables or cultural stories

WAPELIEX1

Literacy

Explore and replicate the rhythms and sound patterns of literary texts, such as stories, poems, chants, rhymes and songs

WAPELIEX2

Literacy

Numeracy

Critical and creative thinking

Creating literature

Retell and adapt literary texts through play and performance

For example:

- retelling or performing a story, changing the characters, setting or order of events
- participating in role-play to retell and adapt favourite texts

WAPELICR1

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Identify some familiar texts, such as stories and informative texts, and their purposes

For example:

- recognising how a non-fiction text contains information about the real world
- identifying some texts in the environment and recognising their purpose, such as using a poster that explains how to wash your hands

WAPELYT1

Literacy

Interacting with others

Interact in informal and structured situations by listening while others speak, including turn-taking and using features of voice, including volume levels

WAPELYI1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Identify some differences between imaginative and informative texts

For example:

- recognising features that are imaginative in fiction texts and real-world information in informative texts, such as talking animals in stories compared to an animal encyclopedia
- discussing language typical to a specific text type, such as Once upon a time in fairytales

WAPELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Read decodable and authentic texts using developing phonic and word knowledge, and monitor meaning using context and emerging grammatical knowledge

For example:

- using decoding knowledge to read regular VC and CVC words in phonic (decodable) readers
- identifying some high-frequency words and other known words during shared and independent reading
- developing strategies, such as pausing or asking for help, when needing to clarify a sound or word
- beginning to use punctuation when reading, such as pausing at a full stop

WAPELYA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Explore comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring and questioning to understand and discuss texts listened to, viewed or read

For example:

- previewing a text by looking at the images to activate prior knowledge
- asking questions to clarify understanding of a text listened to or viewed
- participating in 'think alouds'
- summarising a story by recalling some key events in an oral story or film
- visualising a character or setting when listening to a story or poem
- making a connection to a setting in a text to predict what events may occur there

WAPELYA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating texts

Create written and multimodal texts for a range of purposes

For example:

- giving a message
- expressing an opinion
- sending a greeting
- recounting an experience

WAPELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Create and deliver short spoken texts to report ideas and events (real or imagined) to peers, using features, such as appropriate voice modulation

WAPELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Form most lower- and upper-case letters using learnt letter formations and correct starting points and directionality

WAPELYC3

Literacy

Explore the use of digital tools to create or add to a visual or spoken text

For example:

- using a camera or digital device to take a photo for a specific purpose
- recording a spoken story or personal experience of choice onto a tablet

WAPELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 1

Year Level Description

In the early childhood phase of schooling, learning, development and wellbeing are connected and learning experiences are informed by the Principles and Practices of the Early Years Learning Framework. A holistic curriculum that integrates knowledge, understandings, skills, values and attitudes across learning areas connects learning to children's lives and their natural curiosity about their world.

English provides opportunities for children to learn through a blend of developmentally appropriate intentional approaches, including play-based learning, inquiry and explicit teaching.

In Year 1, children act with intentionality and agency to explore how English, as the shared language of the learning environment, can be used to meet their diverse needs and interests. They learn to interact with familiar audiences for different purposes. Children have opportunities to develop their control and understanding of the symbolic representations associated with written language. An emphasis on literacy is encapsulated in a holistic approach to learning where key ideas and concepts in a range of learning areas are presented in culturally and phase-appropriate ways.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when children actively question, analyse and evaluate the texts they engage with. In Year 1, children draw on growing knowledge of context, text structures and features as they begin identifying the purpose of texts.

Children engage with a range of texts for enjoyment and learning. They listen to, read and view spoken, written and multimodal texts that include traditional oral tales; imaginative and informative picture books; various types of print, oral and digital stories; rhyming verse, poetry, songs and chants; film and animations; dramatic performances; spoken texts; media, online and digital texts; non-fiction texts; and texts used by children as models for creating their own texts. In Year 1, children develop their reading in a text-rich environment through engagement with a range of texts, including:

- literature that reflects and expands their world, with straightforward sequences of events and everyday happenings with recognisably realistic or imaginary characters
- texts to support children to make literal and inferred meaning
- decodable texts that systematically introduce words with phoneme–grapheme correspondences that align with phonic development for children to continue to practise and consolidate their decoding, if required
- authentic texts that support and extend developing readers and use a small range of language features, including simple and compound sentences, some unfamiliar vocabulary, high-frequency words and other words that need to be decoded using developing phonic knowledge
- informative texts, with illustrations and diagrams, presenting new content about familiar topics of interest and topics introduced in other learning areas
- texts that support learning in English and across the curriculum.

Children create short spoken, written, visual and multimodal texts whose purposes may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. These texts may include responses, such as personal reflections or opinions, recounts of events or experiences, procedures, retells or adaptations of familiar stories, reports, dramatic performances and poetry. Children make choices about texts according to their interests and curiosities.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Children recognise how they interact with others for different purposes. They listen to and create short spoken texts to communicate what they know, understand or have experienced. They share ideas, retell or adapt stories, recount or report on events or experiences, and express opinions using some information gained from learnt topics, topics of interest or texts. They sequence ideas and use language features, including topic-specific vocabulary and words that represent parts of speech, such as nouns, verbs, adjectives and adverbs.

Reading and Viewing

Children actively listen to, read, view and comprehend a range of texts. They monitor meaning and make connections between characters, settings and events, and to personal experiences. They recall key ideas and recognise literal and implied meaning in texts. They recognise the text structures of narrative and informative texts, and the associated language and visual features. They blend short vowels, common long vowels, consonants and digraphs to read one- and two-syllable words. They use knowledge of common letter patterns to read an increasing number of high-frequency words. They use sentence boundary punctuation to read with developing phrasing and fluency.

Writing and Creating

Children create short oral, written and/or multimodal texts to show understanding of the connection between writing, speech and images, including retells or adaptations of stories with events and characters. They report information and express opinions about personal experiences. They create a range of texts that may include informative, imaginative or persuasive texts and include information from learnt topics, topics of interest or texts. They write simple sentences with sentence boundary punctuation and capital letters for proper nouns, using topic-specific vocabulary. They spell most one- and two-syllable words with common letter patterns, and accurately apply an increasing number of taught high-frequency words to their created text.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Explore how language, facial expressions and gestures are used to interact with others when asking for and providing information, making offers, exclaiming, requesting and giving commands

For example:

- asking and answering questions in planned and unplanned discussions and conversations
- identifying emotions expressed in film or picture books and discussing what the characters may be feeling or thinking

WA1ELAI1

Literacy Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Explore language to provide reasons for likes, dislikes and preferences

For example:

- using conjunctions, such as because, when giving reasons
- communicating and experimenting with words to express likes and dislikes, such as fabulous, excellent, terrible, awful
- using adjectives and intensifiers, such as really like, like very much, extremely angry

WA1ELAI2

Literacy Personal and social capability

Text structure, organisation and features

Explore how texts are organised according to their purpose, such as to recount, narrate, express opinion, inform, report and explain

For example:

- sequencing of events in recounts
- headings, images and diagrams in multimodal texts
- opening, plot development and ending in narratives
- following a written or multimodal recipe to participate in a shared activity, such as exploring the purpose of the headings in a recipe

WA1ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Explore how repetition, rhyme and rhythm create cohesion in simple poems, chants and songs

For example:

- experimenting with repeated patterns, such as In the dark, dark woods ..., when constructing texts

WA1ELAT2

Literacy

Explore how print and digital texts are organised using features, such as page numbers, table of contents, headings and titles, navigation buttons, swipe screens, verbal commands, links and images

WA1ELAT3

Literacy

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Understand that a simple sentence consists of a single independent clause representing a single event or idea

For example:

- identifying the subject and verb in clauses, such as the seagulls (subject) were flying (verb)
- responding to prompts to generate sentences that contain a subject and verb

WA1ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that words can represent people, places and things (nouns, including pronouns), happenings and states (verbs), qualities (adjectives) and details, such as when, where and how (adverbs)

For example:

- identifying nouns and verbs in simple sentences
- experimenting with the use of adverbs to enhance sentences
- sorting words into categories, such as noun, adjective, verb depending on the context they are used in

WA1ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Compare how images in different types of texts contribute to meaning

For example:

- interacting with and comparing images in picture books, short films or other multimodal texts
- discussing the meaning of complementary images or diagrams in a range of informative and imaginative texts

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

WA1ELALA4

Understand that written language uses punctuation, such as full stops, question marks and exclamation marks, and uses capital letters for familiar proper nouns

- identifying a range of punctuation marks when reading and beginning to use them to guide expression, such as using a question intonation
- writing their own name and those of some familiar places starting with a capital letter

Literacy

Segment words into separate phonemes (sounds), including consonant blends or clusters at the beginnings and ends of words (phonological awareness)

- breaking spoken words into their individual phonemes, such as p-o-t, sh-o-t, th-r-ow, b-e-n-d, b-r-a-n-d

Literacy

Orally manipulate phonemes in spoken words by addition, deletion and substitution of initial, medial and final phonemes to generate new words (phonological awareness)

- generating new words, such as spot – deleting the [s] to make pot, changing the [o] in pot to [e] to make pet, changing the [t] in pet to [n] to make pen

Literacy

Use short vowels, common long vowels, consonant blends and digraphs to write words, and blend these to read one- and two-syllable words

- blending, segmenting, reading and writing one- and two-syllable words that contain short vowels in the medial position: a, e, i, o, u
- have common long vowels, such as make, train, say; sea, need, me; tiny, pie, life; my; bone, boat; tube
- start with common consonant blends (clusters), such as ,,,,,,,,,,
- end with common blends (clusters), such as ,,,
- start with consonant digraphs, such as ,
- end with consonant digraphs, such as ,,,,,

- short vowels in the medial position: a, e, i, o, u
- have common long vowels, such as make, train, say; sea, need, me; tiny, pie, life; my; bone, boat; tube
- start with common consonant blends (clusters), such as ,,,,,,,,
- end with common blends (clusters), such as ,,,,
- start with consonant digraphs, such as ,
- end with consonant digraphs, such as ,,,,,

Literacy

Understand that a letter can represent more than one sound and that a syllable must contain a vowel sound

- identifying letters that represent a sound different to its common grapheme–phoneme correspondence, such as that can also make an [s] sound as in circus or cent or that at the end of words, such as is, was and his, is pronounced as [z]
- recognising that sometimes can be a substitute vowel, such as in why or happy

Literacy

Spell one- and two-syllable words with common letter patterns

- spelling CVC, CVCC, CCVC, CCVCC and CVVC words with common letter patterns, including spelling words that contain common r-controlled vowels, such as far, and common diphthongs, such as cow, house

- drawing on a range of strategies and resources when writing to spell words with common letter patterns

WA1ELAP5

Literacy

Read and write an increasing number of high-frequency words

For example:

- reading high-frequency words encountered in texts read independently
- drawing on a range of sources to write an increasing number of high-frequency words

WA1ELAP6

Literacy

Recognise and know how to use grammatical morphemes to create word families

For example:

- adding suffixes to a base word to make grammatical word families, such as jump, jumped, jumper, jumping
- categorising words

WA1ELAP7

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Discuss how language and images are used to create characters, settings and events in literature by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors and illustrators

For example:

- generating vocabulary to describe images from picture books or movies
- listening to, viewing and reading a wide range of literary texts and identifying events that make them exciting, such as problems or unexpected happenings
- describing interpretations of literary texts, such as images, characters, settings and events

WA1ELIC01

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Discuss literary texts and share responses by making connections with children's own experiences

For example:

- listening to a text, such as a poem about families, and making connections to own experiences

WA1ELIEN1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Discuss plot, character and setting in stories

For example:

- discussing personal thoughts about favourite characters, whether a setting is real or imagined, or how the problem in a story was resolved

WA1ELIEX1

Literacy

Listen to, discuss and perform literary texts, including stories, poems, chants, rhymes and songs, and imitate and invent sound patterns, including alliteration and rhyme

WA1ELIEX2

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Creating literature

Retell or adapt a story using plot and characters, language features, including vocabulary, and structure of a familiar text through spoken texts, role-play, writing, drawing or digital tools

For example:

- participating in yarning circles that tell stories based on familiar texts
- adapting a story to perform as a play

WA1ELICR1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Discuss different texts and identify some features that indicate their purposes

For example:

- identifying features of texts which are specific to the text type, such as the purpose of indexes in non-fiction texts, images that help make meaning in a story, or rhyme in a poem and how it helps readers remember the words

WA1ELYT1

Literacy

Interacting with others

Use interaction skills, including turn-taking, speaking clearly, using active listening behaviours and responding to the contributions of others, and contributing ideas and questions

WA1ELYI1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Describe some similarities and differences between imaginative, informative and persuasive texts

For example:

- discussing and comparing different types of texts on a similar topic, such as illustrations in a fictional picture book about the Australian bush and diagrams in an informative text on the same topic

WA1ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Read decodable and authentic texts using developing phonic and word knowledge, phrasing and fluency, and monitor meaning using context and grammatical knowledge

For example:

- drawing on phonic knowledge to read regular CV, VC, CVC and CCVC and CVCC and CCCVC words in phonic (decodable) readers
- use phonic and vocabulary knowledge to read some authentic texts, such as environmental print, shared and personally chosen texts
- using strategies, such as self-monitoring for meaning, or re-reading when meaning breaks down
- using punctuation, such as full stops and commas to develop fluency and prosody

WA1ELYA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring and questioning when listening, reading and viewing to build literal and inferred meaning in texts by drawing on vocabulary and growing knowledge of context and text structures

For example:

- previewing texts to draw on prior knowledge of text structure to help navigate the text
- making connections to other texts to help build literal and inferred meaning
- listening for and drawing on vocabulary, such as topic-specific words to help summarise an informative text
- monitoring understanding by participating in discussions and reflecting on other people's ideas about texts
- visualising a character and/or setting using the author's descriptions to help build inferred meaning
- searching for information to clarify questions or misunderstandings about the text

WA1ELYA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating texts

Create, re-read and co-edit short written and/or multimodal texts to report on a topic, express an opinion, or recount a real or imagined event or experience, and use imagination to tell, retell or adapt a story, using grammatically correct simple sentences, some topic-specific vocabulary, sentence boundary punctuation and correct spelling of some one- and two-syllable words

For example:

- creating written texts using words, punctuation and images for different purposes, such as a recount of a shared experience or an informative text about a favourite hobby

WA1ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Create and deliver short oral and/or multimodal presentations on personal and learnt topics, which include an opening, middle and concluding statement, some topic-specific vocabulary and appropriate gesture, volume and pace

WA1ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Write words using unjoined lower- and upper-case letters

Literacy

Explore features of familiar digital tools to create or add to texts

For example:

- experimenting with using the camera on a tablet to add an image to a text

LiteracyCritical and creative thinking*Digital literacy

Year 2

Year Level Description

In the early childhood phase of schooling, learning, development and wellbeing are connected and learning experiences are informed by the Principles and Practices of the Early Years Learning Framework. A holistic curriculum that integrates knowledge, understandings, skills, values and attitudes across learning areas connects learning to children's lives and their natural curiosity about their world.

English provides opportunities for children to learn through a blend of developmentally appropriate intentional approaches, including play-based learning, inquiry and explicit teaching.

In Year 2, children act with intentionality and agency to explore how English, as the shared language of the learning environment, can be used to share ideas, thoughts and opinions with familiar audiences for different purposes. An emphasis on literacy is encapsulated in a holistic approach to learning where key ideas and concepts in a range of learning areas are presented in culturally and phase-appropriate ways. Children should have recurring and cumulative opportunities to develop their knowledge and understanding of the symbolic representations associated with written language. They interact with others to develop a sense of wellbeing as they investigate interpersonal language choices to communicate for different purposes and to meet their personal needs and interests.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when children actively question, analyse and evaluate the texts they engage with. In Year 2, children learn to identify the purpose and audience of imaginative, informative and persuasive texts.

Children engage with a range of texts for enjoyment and learning. They listen to, read and view spoken, written and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. The range of texts includes imaginative and informative picture books; various types of print, oral and digital stories; rhyming verse, poetry, songs and chants; media, online and digital texts; dramatic performances; spoken texts; chapter books; non-fiction texts; and texts used by children as models for creating their own texts. As children transition to become independent readers, they continue to develop their decoding and comprehension skills, using a range of texts, including:

- texts for different purposes that support children to build literal and inferred meaning
- literary texts that may include sequences of events that span several pages, unusual happenings within a framework of familiar experiences, and images that extend meaning
- texts that include language features, such as varied sentence structures, some unfamiliar vocabulary, an increasing bank of high-frequency words, and words that need to be decoded using phonic and morphemic knowledge, and a range of punctuation conventions
- informative texts which present new content about topics of interest and topics introduced in other learning areas and that may include illustrations and diagrams that extend the text.

Children create spoken, written, visual and multimodal texts whose purposes may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. These texts may include retells or adaptations of stories, recounts of events or experiences, procedures, narratives, reports of learning area content, responses (including reviews and personal reflections), persuasive arguments/expositions, dramatic performances and poetry. These texts are created for familiar audiences. Children make choices about texts according to their interests and curiosities.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Children interact with others for a purpose and listen to and create spoken texts to discuss ideas and share experiences and personal preferences, including through storytelling. They communicate ideas, topic knowledge and appreciation of texts when they recount, inform or express an opinion, and draw on information from learnt topics, their imagination, funds of knowledge or texts. They organise and link ideas, and use language features, including topic-specific vocabulary.

Reading and Viewing

Children listen to, read, view and comprehend texts, identifying literal and inferred meaning, and how ideas are presented through settings, characters and events. They identify how similar topics and information are presented through the structure of narrative and informative texts, and identify their language features and visual features. They use phonic and morphemic knowledge and grammatical patterns to read unfamiliar words and most high-frequency words. They use knowledge of phonics, words and punctuation to read with phrasing and fluency.

Writing and Creating

Children create written and/or multimodal texts, including texts to tell stories, inform, express an opinion or adapt an idea for familiar audiences. They use text structures to organise and link ideas for a purpose. They punctuate simple and compound sentences. They use topic-specific vocabulary. They spell words with regular spelling patterns, and use phonic and morphemic knowledge to attempt to spell words with less common patterns.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Investigate how interpersonal language choices vary depending on the context, including the different roles taken on in interactions

For example:

- exploring culturally appropriate greetings or conventions from different home languages
- interacting with local or visiting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples through greetings and culturally appropriate conventions

WA2ELAI1

Literacy Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Explore how language can be used for appreciating texts and providing reasons for preferences

For example:

- using verbs to describe a range of responses to a text, such as prefer, enjoy
- experimenting with conjunctions, such as since, although, or except for to explain their response

WA2ELAI2

Literacy Personal and social capability

Text structure, organisation and features

Explore how texts across learning areas are organised differently and use language features depending on purposes

For example:

- locating information using the subheadings in a non-fiction text
- identifying language features in texts, such as action verbs in a procedural text
- co-constructing a response to a performance from The Arts using a familiar format

WA2ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how texts are made cohesive by using personal and possessive pronouns and by omitting words that can be inferred

For example:

- replacing repeated nouns with pronouns, such as Jack was hungry. Jack He bought some magic beans but Jack's his mother threw the beans them out.
- omitting words in a sentence, such as I thought my cat was hungry but he was not hungry.

WA2ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Navigate print and digital texts using chapters, table of contents, indexes, sidebar menus, drop-down menus or links

WA2ELAT3

Literacy

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Understand that connections can be made between ideas by using a compound sentence with two or more independent clauses usually linked by a coordinating conjunction

For example:

- identifying and using the coordinating conjunctions found in compound sentences: for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so
- sorting sentences into simple and compound sentence groups

WA2ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that, in sentences, nouns may be extended into noun groups using articles and adjectives, and verbs may be expressed as verb groups

For example:

- adding words to nouns to make a noun group, such as changing the noun cat into a noun group, one (article) very old, lazy (adjectives) cat

- adding words to verbs to make a verb group, such as changing walked into walked along the road slowly

WA2ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that images add to or multiply the meanings of a text

For example:

- discussing detail that is included in the images but not present in the words
- identifying and describing the way images are used to expand meaning, such as a character's facial expression to communicate emotion, or graphs, diagrams and maps to communicate facts and details

WA2ELALA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Experiment with and begin to make conscious choices of vocabulary to suit the topic, situation or context

WA2ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Recognise that capital letters are used in titles and commas are used to separate items in lists

For example:

- identifying the separate items in a list as indicated by the commas, such as peas, beans, carrots and pumpkin
- making use of capital letters in titles of proper nouns to help make meaning in texts

WA2ELALA5

Literacy

Phonic and word knowledge

Manipulate more complex sounds in spoken words and use knowledge of blending, segmenting, phoneme deletion and phoneme substitution to read and write words

For example:

- blending and segmenting spoken words to identify the phonemes in spoken words, such as proud, scratch and stick
- delete initial phonemes, such as [s] in snail
- substitute final sounds, such as the [g] in flag for [p]
- identify the phonemes in spoken words, such as proud, scratch and stick
- delete initial phonemes, such as [s] in snail
- substitute final sounds, such as the [g] in flag for [p]

WA2ELAP1

Literacy

Use phoneme–grapheme (sound–letter) relationships and patterns, when blending and segmenting to read and write words of one or more syllables

For example:

- reading and writing words that contain less common long vowel patterns, such as they, eight, break, chief, funny, right, cold, toe, flow, new
- r-controlled vowels, such as star, herd, bird, fur
- diphthongs, such as boil, now, boy
- consonant clusters, such as , , , , , laugh,
- less common long vowel patterns, such as they, eight, break, chief, funny, right, cold, toe, flow, new
- r-controlled vowels, such as star, herd, bird, fur
- diphthongs, such as boil, now, boy
- consonant clusters, such as , , , , , laugh,
- blending and segmenting phonemes in words, such as cloudy or brother, as a decoding or encoding strategy
- decoding or encoding using onset and rime (initial phoneme substitution or rime substitution)

WA2ELAP2

Literacy

Understand that a sound can be represented by various letter combinations

For example:

- identifying that , , and can all make a long [e] sound
- recognising that the sound [s] can be represented with various letter combinations, such as , , , and
- know that children with the same name may spell their names differently, such as Amy/Aimee, Mark/Marc

WA2ELAP3

Literacy

Use phoneme–grapheme (sound – letter) matches, including vowel digraphs, less common long vowel patterns, consonant

For example:

- WA2ELAP4

For example:

- WA2ELAP5

For example:

- WA2ELAP6

For example:

- WA2ELIC01

For example:

- WA2ELIEN1

For example:

- WA2ELIEX1

Identify, reproduce and experiment with rhythmic sound and word patterns in literary texts, including stories, poems, chants, rhymes and songs

WA2ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts by adapting structures and language features of literary texts through drawing, writing, performance and digital tools

For example:

- adapting a well-known poem or story into a sequence of images

WA2ELICR1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Identify how similar topics and information are presented in different types of texts

For example:

- exploring and identifying different features in texts of the same text type which vary in their organisation, such as different types of procedures
- comparing two or more texts on a common topic

WA2ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Interacting with others

Use interaction skills when engaging with topics, actively listening to others, receiving instructions and extending own ideas, speaking appropriately, expressing and responding to opinions, making statements, and giving instructions

WA2ELYI1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Identify the purpose and audience of imaginative, informative and persuasive texts

For example:

- describing the purpose and audience of some child-friendly advertisements

WA2ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Read texts with phrasing and fluency combining phonic, word and grammatical knowledge, and monitor meaning using text processing strategies

For example:

- blending and segmenting new words using known letter patterns and phonic knowledge
- reading high-frequency words with increasing automaticity to develop fluency
- drawing on topic word knowledge to make meaning in informative texts
- recognising a base word within a larger word to aid decoding
- using knowledge of sentence structure, including punctuation and word order to read with phrasing and fluency
- drawing on personal knowledge and experiences to construct and monitor meaning

WA2ELYA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring and questioning when listening, reading and viewing to build literal and inferred meaning in a range of texts for different purposes

For example:

- making connections to own experiences to understand the motives or feelings of a character
- making predictions about the type of characters who are likely to be in a text, such as a fable or Aboriginal tale
- participating in conversations to share ideas, and ask and answer questions about texts
- sharing the clues from the text when discussing inferences during shared reading
- monitoring understanding by asking questions and/or checking information in another text

WA2ELYA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating texts

Plan, create and edit short imaginative, informative and persuasive written and/or multimodal texts for familiar audiences, using text structure appropriate to purpose, simple and compound sentences, noun groups and verb groups, topic-specific vocabulary, simple punctuation and correct spelling of some common two-syllable words

For example:

- creating a written text, selecting and including elements appropriate to purpose and audience, such as including diagrams in an informative text and detailed descriptions in a narrative

WA2ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Create, rehearse and deliver short oral and/or multimodal presentations to inform or tell stories for familiar audiences and purposes, using text structure appropriate to purpose and topic-specific vocabulary, and varying tone, volume and pace

WA2ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Write words legibly and with growing fluency using unjoined lower- and upper-case letters

WA2ELYC3

Literacy

Use features of digital tools to create or add to texts

WA2ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 3

Year Level Description

In the middle to late childhood phase of schooling, students develop a sense of self, their world expands, and they begin to see themselves as members of larger communities. Learning experiences emphasise and lead to an appreciation of both the commonality and diversity of human experience and concerns.

English provides opportunities for students to develop a sound grasp of spoken, written and visual language and use this in a range of different learning situations in purposeful ways to achieve outcomes across all learning areas.

In Year 3, students use spoken, written and visual communication to interact with familiar audiences for a purpose. The ability of students to work collaboratively and to develop their interaction skills should be fostered by activities that require group planning and decision-making, and interaction with people inside and outside their classroom. Students should be given opportunities to reflect on their learning and work practices and consider ways in which these might be improved, modified or adapted for different situations.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse and evaluate the texts they engage with. In Year 3, students learn about literary devices and techniques used by authors and/or illustrators to shape audience reaction, and about the language features and structures that are relevant to the purpose of cross-curricula texts.

Students engage with a range of texts for enjoyment and learning. They listen to, read and view spoken, written and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. The range of texts includes imaginative and informative picture books; various types of print, oral and digital stories; chapter books; rhyming verse and poetry; film and animation; dramatic performance; conversations and discussions; websites and other digital media; non-fiction texts; and texts used by students as models for creating their own texts. Texts that support and extend students as independent readers include:

- texts that reflect a range of contexts, text structures and language features that enable students to actively build literal and inferred meaning, and begin to evaluate texts
- literary texts that may describe events that extend over several pages, unusual happenings within a framework of familiar experiences, and may include images that extend meaning
- texts that use language features, including varied sentence structures, some unfamiliar vocabulary, a significant number of high-frequency words that can be decoded using phonic, semantic and grammatical knowledge, a variety of punctuation conventions, and illustrations and diagrams that support and extend the text
- informative texts that include content of increasing complexity and technicality about topics of interest and topics being studied in other areas of the curriculum.

Students create spoken, written, visual and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. These texts may include narratives, procedures, dramatic performances, reports, responses (such as reviews or personal reflections), poetry and persuasive arguments/expositions for particular purposes and audiences. Students make choices about texts according to their interests.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others, and listen to and create spoken and/or multimodal texts, including stories. They contribute actively to class and group discussions, asking questions, providing useful feedback and making presentations. They relate ideas; express opinions, preferences and appreciation of texts; and include relevant details from learnt topics, topics of interest or texts. They group, logically sequence and link ideas. They use language features, including topic-specific vocabulary, and/or visual features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students listen to, read, view and comprehend texts, recognising their purpose and audience. They read texts that contain varied sentence structures, a range of punctuation conventions, and images that provide extra information. They use phonic, morphemic and grammatical knowledge to read multisyllabic words with more complex letter patterns. They read with fluency and phrasing, and use comprehension strategies to build literal and implied meaning, connecting ideas in different parts of a text. They describe how stories are developed through characters, settings and/or events. They identify how texts are structured and presented. They describe the language features of texts, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and how visual features extend meaning.

Writing and Creating

Students understand how language can be used to express feelings and opinions on topics. They create written and/or multimodal texts, including texts to tell stories, inform, express opinions, explain and present arguments for audiences, relating ideas, including relevant details from learnt topics, topics of interest or texts. They use text structures, including simple paragraphs, and language features, compound sentences, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and/or visual features. They spell high-frequency words and multisyllabic words with less common letter patterns using phonic and morphemic knowledge.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Understand that cooperation with others depends on shared understanding of social conventions, including turn-taking language, which vary according to the degree of formality

For example:

- contributing ideas on how to achieve cooperation when participating in group work
- exploring the social conventions of other cultures through literature or in other learning areas, such as Humanities and Social Sciences or Languages

WA3ELAI1

Literacy Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Understand how the language of evaluation and emotion, such as modal verbs, can be varied to be more or less forceful

For example:

- ordering modal verbs on a continuum, such as could, should, will, must

WA3ELAI2

Literacy Personal and social capability

Text structure, organisation and features

Describe how texts across learning areas are organised into stages and use language features relevant to their purpose

For example:

- identifying typical stages in reports across different learning areas
- identifying the language features of a typical persuasive text, such as modal verbs, conjunctions signalling cause and effect, and text connectives
- identifying visual features used in procedures, such as diagrams or close-up photographs that help the viewer carry out instructions

WA3ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that paragraphs are a key organisational feature of the stages of written texts, grouping related information together

For example:

- classifying facts about a topic, such as when planning an informative report
- identifying and discussing the use of paragraphs in a narrative

WA3ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Identify the purpose of layout features in print and digital texts, and the words and symbols used for navigation

WA3ELAT3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Understand that sentences are usually made up of clauses, and the subject and verb within the clauses need to agree

For example:

- creating sentences in which the verb and the subject agree, such as The boy was running fast because the dogs were chasing him.
- experimenting with sentence construction using clauses that contain singular and plural subjects

WA3ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how verbs represent different processes for doing, feeling, thinking, saying and relating

For example:

- categorising verbs according to their process, such as doing: walk; feeling: love; thinking: wonder; saying: whisper; relating: are
- using alternative verbs for overused examples, such as did or said

WA3ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that verbs are anchored in time through tense

For example:

- sorting words and phrases into groups, such as arrived, is arriving and will arrive, into past, present and future

WA3ELALA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Identify the effect on audiences of techniques, such as shot size, vertical camera angle and layout in picture books, advertisements and film segments

For example:

- discussing how visual techniques affect the viewer, such as how close-ups create a familiarity between the character and the viewer
- selecting an image in a visual text that is portrayed from a high angle and discussing the effect
- describing how the layout of a multimodal text, such as an infographic or webpage, creates a reading pathway or an order of viewing

WA3ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Extend topic-specific and technical vocabulary and know that words can have different meanings in different contexts

WA3ELALA5

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that apostrophes signal missing letters in contractions, and apostrophes are used to show singular and plural possession

For example:

- exploring high-frequency homophones that feature pronoun possession and apostrophes, such as your/you're, its/it's, theirs/there's, whose/who's
- identifying words with apostrophes that indicate singular possession, as in the girl's hat (one girl) and plural possession as in the girls' hats (more than one girl)

WA3ELALA6

Literacy

Phonic and word knowledge

Understand how to apply knowledge of phoneme–grapheme (sound – letter) relationships, syllables, and blending and segmenting to fluently read and write multisyllabic words with more complex letter patterns

For example:

- blending, segmenting and syllabifying when reading and writing words with more complex consonant patterns, such as machine, squash, edge, shrink, making a [sh] sound as in lotion or a [ch] sound as in adventure vowel patterns, such as moon, fool, fruit, through, tough, neigh, eight, people, canoe, could, shoulder, touch
r-controlled vowels, such as stair, bare, beard, learn, sore, hour, four, hawk, as in taught
- more complex consonant patterns, such as machine, squash, edge, shrink, making a [sh] sound as in lotion or a [ch] sound as in adventure
- vowel patterns, such as moon, fool, fruit, through, tough, neigh, eight, people, canoe, could, shoulder, touch
- r-controlled vowels, such as stair, bare, beard, learn, sore, hour, four, hawk, as in taught

WA3ELAP1

Literacy

Use phoneme–grapheme (sound – letter) relationships and less common letter patterns to spell words

For example:

- spelling words with less common letter patterns, such as words where the represents short [i] as in gym, or a long [i] as in cycle

words that spell the [sh] sound with or , such as sugar or tissue
words that end in , such as table

- words where the represents short [i] as in gym, or a long [i] as in cycle
- words that spell the [sh] sound with or , such as sugar or tissue
- words that end in , such as table
- representing the [r] sound at the end of words, such as author and dollar

WA3ELAP2

Literacy

Recognise and know how to write most high-frequency words, including some homophones

For example:

- spelling homophones, such as there, their, they're; to, too, two; here, hear; our, hour; knight, night; mail, male; made, maid; sale, sail

WA3ELAP3

Literacy

Understand how to apply knowledge of common base words, prefixes, suffixes and generalisations for adding a suffix to a base word to read and comprehend new multimorphemic words

For example:

- recognising that words, prefixes and suffixes are morphemes, and that morphemes are units of meaning
- applying knowledge of morphemes to decode words, such as uneventful = the prefix meaning not + the base word + the suffix indicating full of or characterised by
- changing the meaning of a word with a prefix, such as happy/unhappy
- using spelling generalisations when adding suffixes, such as adding to make plurals for words ending in , , , and doubling the final consonant when adding the suffix to words with short vowels, such as hop, knit, sit

WA3ELAP4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Literature

Literature and contexts

Discuss characters, events and settings in different contexts in literature by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors and illustrators

For example:

- identifying how familiar characters, such as mothers and fathers may be portrayed by different authors or illustrators
- describing various representations of settings in literature, such as how settings are described in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander traditional oral narratives

WA3ELIC01

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Discuss connections between personal experiences and character experiences in literary texts and share personal preferences

For example:

- identifying a personal connection to a character and discussing how this helps understand the character's actions or reactions to an event

WA3ELIEN1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Discuss how an author uses language and illustrations to portray characters and settings in texts, and explore how the settings and events influence the mood of the narrative

For example:

- identifying examples of setting and events which indicate mood
- changing details in a familiar text, such as setting, and reflecting on how this changes the events and mood of the story

WA3ELIEX1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Discuss the effects of some literary devices used to enhance meaning and shape the reader's reaction, such as rhythm and onomatopoeia in literary texts, including poetry and prose

WA3ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating literature

Create and edit imaginative texts, using or adapting language features, characters, settings, plot structures and ideas encountered in literary texts

For example:

- adapting elements from a range of stories to create a script that contains familiar characters, settings and plot ideas from a range of stories
- rewriting a text in a different form, such as rewriting a poem as a story

WA3ELICR1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Recognise how texts can be created for similar purposes but different audiences

For example:

- identifying how texts, such as advertisements or infographics, can be created differently for adults and children

WA3ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Interacting with others

Use interaction skills to contribute to conversations and discussions to share information and ideas, recognising the value of others' contributions and responding through comments, recounts and summaries of information

WA3ELYI1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Identify the purpose and audience of some language features and/or images in imaginative, informative and persuasive texts

For example:

- explaining why a text includes a table or diagram
- considering authors' choices in relation to the target audience, such as why the creator of an advertisement used bright colours and a catchy jingle

WA3ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Read a range of texts combining phonic, semantic and grammatical knowledge to read accurately and fluently, re-reading and self-correcting when required

For example:

- combining phonic and grammatical knowledge to know when a word doesn't make sense and to self-correct, such as The man rode on a house (horse).
- combining phonic and topic knowledge to decode and monitor meaning in informative texts
- applying morphemic knowledge to find base words and affixes to decode and understand words
- using syllabification as a strategy to decode multisyllabic words
- using grammatical knowledge, such as tense, to monitor meaning and self-correct as needed

WA3ELYA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring and questioning when listening, reading and viewing to build literal and inferred meaning, and begin to evaluate texts by drawing on a growing knowledge of context, text structures and language features

For example:

- making connections to other texts to help make inferences or support literal understanding
- making predictions about text structures and information in informative texts and evaluating if they suit a purpose, such as answering questions about a topic
- asking questions to clarify information when reading a text
- drawing on key words to help summarise the text
- creating a mental image of a character or setting from explicit and implied information
- choosing books for independent reading based on prior knowledge of genres

WA3ELYA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish imaginative, informative and persuasive written and multimodal texts, using visual features, appropriate form and layout, with ideas grouped in simple paragraphs, mostly correct tense, topic-specific vocabulary and correct spelling of most high-frequency and phonetically regular words

WA3ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver short oral and/or multimodal presentations to inform, express opinions or tell stories, using a clear structure, details to elaborate ideas, topic-specific and precise vocabulary, visual features, and appropriate tone, pace, pitch and volume.

WA3ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Write words using joined letters that are clearly formed and consistent in size

WA3ELYC3

Literacy

Use features of digital tools to create or add to texts for a purpose

For example:

- using a text processing application to create texts, such as a simple flowchart to add to an informative text
- selecting and adding music to a multimodal text to build mood

WA3ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 4

Year Level Description

In the middle to late childhood phase of schooling, students develop a sense of self, their world expands, and they begin to see themselves as members of larger communities. Learning experiences emphasise and lead to an appreciation of both the commonality and diversity of human experience and concerns.

English provides opportunities for students to develop a sound grasp of spoken, written and visual language and use this in a range of different learning situations in purposeful ways to achieve outcomes across all learning areas.

In Year 4, students use spoken, written and visual communication to interact with audiences for different purposes. The ability of students to work collaboratively and to develop their interaction skills should be fostered by activities that require group planning and decision-making, and interaction with people inside and outside their classroom.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse and evaluate the texts they engage with. In Year 4, students begin to identify the subjective and objective language used in texts, and how the author's and/or illustrator's choices shape audience reaction. They learn how the language features and structures of a range of cross-curricula texts are organised depending on purpose.

Students engage with a range of texts for enjoyment and learning. They listen to, read and view spoken, written and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. The range of texts includes imaginative and informative picture books; various types of print, oral and digital stories; short novels of different genres; rhyming verse and poetry; conversations and discussions; media, online and digital texts; dramatic performances; non-fiction texts; and texts used by students as models for creating their own texts. Texts that support and extend students as independent readers include:

- texts that enable students to actively build literal and inferred meaning, to expand knowledge and ideas
- texts that use language features, including varied sentence structures, some unfamiliar vocabulary that may include English words derived from other languages, a significant number of high-frequency words, words that need to be decoded using phonic, semantic and grammatical knowledge, a variety of punctuation conventions, and illustrations and diagrams that support and extend the printed text
- literary texts that may describe sequences of events that develop over chapters and unusual happenings within a framework of familiar experiences
- informative texts that include content of increasing complexity and technicality about topics of interest and topics being studied in other areas of the curriculum.

Students create spoken, written, visual and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. These may include narratives, dramatic performances or texts, reports, responses (such as reviews and personal reflections), poetry, procedures, and persuasive expositions or discussions for particular purposes and audiences. Students make choices about texts according to their interests.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others and listen to and create spoken and/or multimodal texts, including stories. They share and extend ideas, opinions and information with audiences, using relevant details from learnt topics, topics of interest or texts. They make presentations and contribute actively to class and group discussions, varying language according to context. They use text structures and language features to organise and link ideas. They use language features, subjective and objective language, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and/or visual features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students listen to, read, view and comprehend texts created to entertain, persuade and/or inform audiences. They integrate phonic, morphemic, and grammatical knowledge to read texts that include varied sentence structures and some unfamiliar vocabulary, including multisyllabic and multimorphemic words. They read fluently and maintain accuracy and meaning by re-reading and self-correcting when needed. They describe literal and implied meaning, connecting ideas in different texts. They describe how ideas are developed, including through settings, characters and events, and how texts reflect contexts. They describe the characteristic features of different text structures. They describe how language features, including literary devices, and visual features shape meaning.

Writing and Creating

Students create written and/or multimodal texts, including texts to tell stories, inform, express opinions, explain and present arguments, for purposes and audiences, developing ideas using details from learnt topics, topics of interest or texts. They use language features, including paragraphs, to create coherence and add detail to their texts. They use language features, complex sentences, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and/or visual features. They spell words, including multisyllabic and multimorphemic words with more complex spelling patterns using phonic, morphemic and grammatical knowledge.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Explore language used to develop relationships in formal and informal situations

For example:

- using conventions required to maintain a formal tone when participating in formal speaking events, such as an assembly
- developing, maintaining and repairing interactions with peers in informal situations, such as small group work

WA4ELA11

Literacy Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Identify the subjective language of opinion and feeling, and the objective language of factual reporting

For example:

- using examples of language that signal opinion, such as I believe ... Many people may disagree but ...
- experimenting with turning an objective statement into a subjective one, such as he has five cats becomes he has too many cats
- labelling statements as either fact or opinion

WA4ELA12

Literacy Personal and social capability Ethical understanding

Text structure, organisation and features

Identify how texts across learning areas are typically organised into stages and phases and use language features appropriate to purpose

For example:

- discussing the purpose of the opening stage of narratives, and exploring the different phases that each use, such as description, dialogue and action
- labelling phases included in the analysis stage of a review, such as the phase of theme, characterisation or language features
- identifying examples of different language features in informative reports, such as action verbs, linking verbs, tense, descriptive language, language for defining and technical vocabulary
- identifying visual features, such as maps that may be included in a description of a place to help the reader visualise important information

WA4ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Identify how text connectives, including temporal and conditional words, and topic word associations, are used to sequence and connect ideas

For example:

- using temporal text connectives, such as first, later, finally, next morning to connect ideas
- using conditional words/phrases, such as however, though, on the other hand, even so when creating complex sentences
- identify topic word associations, such as desert, sand, heat, nocturnal, water

WA4ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Identify text navigation features of print and digital texts that enhance readability, including headlines, drop-down menus, links, graphics and layout

WA4ELAT3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Understand that complex sentences contain one independent clause and at least one dependent clause typically joined by a subordinating conjunction to create relationships, such as time and causality

For example:

- identifying the parts of complex sentences, such as The weavers promised to make the Emperor new clothes (independent clause) even though (conjunction) they had no intention of doing so (dependent clause).
- identifying subordinating conjunctions according to their functions, such as causality because, since, as, so that time after, before, when, as long as, whenever, until
- causality because, since, as, so that
- time after, before, when, as long as, whenever, until

WA4ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Investigate how quoted (direct) and reported (indirect) speech are used

For example:

- exploring the effect on the reader of dialogue written in different ways, such as 'Head for the exit!' yelled the teacher. / The teacher directed them to head for the exit.

WA4ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how adverb groups/phrases and prepositional phrases work in different ways to provide circumstantial details

For example:

- identifying details in texts that are provided by a prepositional phrase, such as where, when, or how something happened
- finding examples of adverb groups or phrases in texts and using as models when writing similar sentences

WA4ELALA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand past, present and future tenses and their impact on meaning in a sentence

For example:

- identifying when an event in a narrative has occurred, is happening or will happen in the future through understanding of tense
- identifying the tenses used in different genres, such as timeless present tense in reports

WA4ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Explore the effect of choices when framing an image, placement of elements in the image and salience on composition of still and moving images in texts

For example:

- discussing how framing can create a sense of enclosure or openness
- identifying how the placement of characters, text or objects creates balance or alignment
- identifying the salient features of a visual text and exploring what they emphasise or highlight

WA4ELALA5

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Expand vocabulary by exploring a range of synonyms and antonyms, using words encountered in a range of sources

WA4ELALA6

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that punctuation signals dialogue through quotation marks and that dialogue follows conventions for the use of capital letters, commas and boundary punctuation

For example:

- identifying parts of dialogue, such as who is speaking and what is said in the sentence 'Mrs Brown, please keep this for me,' asked Jane. 'I'll be back to get it later.'
- using the correct conventions when writing simple dialogue, such as 'It is mine,' said the king.

WA4ELALA7

Literacy

Phonic and word knowledge

Understand how to use and apply phonological and morphological knowledge to read and write multisyllabic words with more complex letter combinations, including a variety of vowel sounds and known prefixes and suffixes

For example:

- reading and writing
- multisyllabic words with more complex consonant patterns, such as pitching, scenery, squashing
- words with more complex vowel patterns, such as foolish, fruitful, thoughtful, toughen, neighbourly, sleight, geography, vein, either, leisure
- multisyllabic words with more complex consonant patterns, such as pitching, scenery, squashing
- words with more complex vowel patterns, such as foolish, fruitful, thoughtful, toughen, neighbourly, sleight, geography, vein, either, leisure

WA4ELAP1

Literacy

Understand how to use knowledge of letter patterns, including double letters, spelling generalisations, morphological word families, common prefixes and suffixes, and word origins, to spell more complex words

For example:

- spelling more complex words that contain
- double letter patterns, such as scissors, rubber, yellow
- other spelling generalisations, such as dropping a final in words, such as writing, hoping
- morphological word families, such as aqua, aquatic, Aquaman, aquarium, aqueduct
- common prefixes, such as , , , ,
- common suffixes, such as , , , , ,
- double letter patterns, such as scissors, rubber, yellow
- other spelling generalisations, such as dropping a final in words, such as writing, hoping
- morphological word families, such as aqua, aquatic, Aquaman, aquarium, aqueduct
- common prefixes, such as , , , ,
- common suffixes, such as , , , , ,

WA4ELAP2

Literacy

Read and write high-frequency words, including homophones, and know how to use context to identify correct spelling

For example:

- spelling frequently mixed-up homophones (and near homophones), such as there, their, they're; were, where, wear, we're; quiet, quite; lose, loose; aloud, allowed

WA4ELAP3

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Recognise similar storylines, ideas and relationships in different contexts in literary texts by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors

For example:

- discussing how literary texts from different times or places represent ideas, such as everyday life
- comparing texts with similar storylines, such as texts that have been created by Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander peoples from different regions

WA4ELIC01

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Describe the effects of text structures and language features in literary texts when responding to and sharing opinions

For example:

- discussing language features used by the author to shape the reader's opinion about a character

WA4ELIEN1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Discuss how authors and illustrators make stories engaging by the way they develop character, setting and plot tensions

For example:

- identifying the points of plot tension in a short story
- describing how an author develops a character, such as character interaction in a film scene

WA4ELIEX1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Examine the use of literary devices and deliberate word play in literary texts, including poetry to shape meaning

WA4ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts by developing storylines, characters and settings

For example:

- writing a description to further develop a character from a known text, such as adding information about their past, goals, motivations and/or personality

WA4ELICR1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Compare texts from different times with similar purposes and audiences to identify similarities and differences in their depictions of events

For example:

- identifying how texts may depict social norms or values, such as comparing advertisements from the past to the present
- discussing the ways in which a historical text depicted an event compared to the ways in which the same event is depicted in a current text

WA4ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Interacting with others

Listen for key points and information to carry out tasks and use interaction skills to contribute to discussions, acknowledging another opinion, linking a response to the topic, and sharing and extending ideas and information

WA4ELYI1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Identify the characteristic features used in imaginative, informative and persuasive texts to meet the purpose of the text

For example:

- describing the language used by authors to create imaginary worlds
- selecting and using a suitable format depending on purpose when creating a text, such as a formal letter to the Principal to convince them to act on an important school issue
- identifying and making use of diagrams and other visual features when reading informative texts

WA4ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Read different types of texts, integrating phonic, semantic and grammatical knowledge to read accurately and fluently, re-reading and self-correcting when needed

For example:

- drawing on knowledge of text structures and language features to make meaning in different types of texts
- using cohesive devices, such as pronoun association to monitor meaning
- integrating a range of strategies to decode unknown words, such as using phonics to sound out a word and then drawing on grammatical knowledge to decide whether it makes sense
- integrating a range of strategies to maintain meaning and accuracy, such as adjusting reading rate, reading aloud or checking visuals, such as diagrams

WA4ELYA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring and questioning when listening, reading and viewing to build literal and inferred meaning to expand topic knowledge and ideas, and evaluate texts

For example:

- making connections to non-fiction texts or topic-specific information to build meaning around an issue or topic in a narrative
- sharing questions about texts with others as a means of evaluating their ideas or perspectives on a text
- setting a purpose for reading, such as previewing an informative text and only using relevant sections of the text that suit the set purpose
- reading graphics, such as tables or diagrams to clarify understanding

- tracking understanding when reading or viewing a text independently, such as keeping a journal
- summarising information with the aid of text features, such as topic sentences, headings and captions

WA4ELYA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish written and multimodal imaginative, informative and persuasive texts, using visual features, relevant ideas linked in paragraphs, complex sentences, appropriate tense, synonyms and antonyms, correct spelling of multisyllabic words and simple punctuation

WA4ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver structured oral and/or multimodal presentations to report on a topic, tell a story, recount events or present an argument using subjective and objective language, complex sentences, visual features, tone, pace, pitch and volume

WA4ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Write words using clearly formed joined letters, with developing fluency and automaticity

WA4ELYC3

Literacy

Use features of digital tools to create or add to texts for a variety of purposes

For example:

- creating a digital text for a specific purpose, such as a poster to advertise an event
- recording a text onto a digital device, adding visual and audio effects

WA4ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 5

Year Level Description

In the middle to late childhood phase of schooling, students develop a sense of self, their world expands, and they begin to see themselves as members of larger communities. Learning experiences emphasise and lead to an appreciation of both the commonality and diversity of human experience and concerns.

English provides opportunities for students to develop a sound grasp of spoken, written and visual language and use this in a range of different learning situations in purposeful ways to achieve outcomes across all learning areas.

In Year 5, students use spoken, written and visual communication to interact with audiences for different purposes. The ability of students to work collaboratively and to develop their interaction skills should be fostered by activities that require group planning and decision-making, and interaction with people inside and outside their classroom.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse and evaluate the texts they engage with. In Year 5, students learn that texts reflect different contexts, such as how they reflect the time and place in which they are created. They present opinions about literary texts and reflect on the viewpoints of others. Students learn how literary devices shape meaning.

Students engage with a range of texts for enjoyment and learning. They listen to, read and view spoken, written and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. The range of texts includes imaginative and informative picture books; various types of print, oral and digital stories; novels; poetry; various types of media; online and digital texts; non-fiction texts; dramatic performances or texts; and conversations and discussions. The features of these texts may be used by students as models for creating their own texts. Texts that support and extend students as independent readers include:

- texts that enable students to actively build literal and inferred meaning to evaluate information and ideas
- texts with structures, such as chapters, headings and subheadings, table of contents, indexes and glossaries
- texts with language features, such as complex sentences, unfamiliar technical vocabulary, figurative language, and information presented in various types of images and graphics
- literary texts that may include complex sequences of events, elaborated events and a range of characters, and may explore themes of interpersonal relationships and ethical dilemmas
- informative texts that may supply technical information and/or content about a wide range of topics of interest as well as topics being studied in other areas of the curriculum
- texts that may reveal that the English language is dynamic and changes over time.

Students create spoken, written, visual and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. These may include narratives, procedures, dramatic performances or texts, reports, responses (including reviews and personal reflections), poetry, argument, including persuasive expositions and/or discussions, and explanations for particular purposes and audiences. Students make choices about texts according to their interests.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others, and listen to and create spoken and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts. For particular purposes and audiences, they share, develop and expand on ideas and opinions, using supporting details from topics or texts. They contribute actively to class and group discussions, taking into account other perspectives. They use different text structures to organise, develop and link ideas. They use language features, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and/or multimodal features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students listen to, read, view and comprehend texts created to inform, entertain or persuade audiences. When reading, they decode unfamiliar words, integrating phonic, grammatical, semantic and contextual knowledge. They use comprehension strategies to build literal and inferred meaning in written and visual texts with less familiar and more varied topics. They read and navigate texts for specific purposes and begin to evaluate the ideas and information presented in them. They explain how ideas are developed, including through characters, settings and/or events, and how texts reflect contexts. They explain how characteristic text structures support the purpose of texts. They explain how language features, literary devices and visual features contribute to the effect and meaning of a text.

Writing and Creating

Students create written and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts, for particular purposes and audiences, developing and expanding on ideas with supporting details from topics or texts. They use paragraphs to organise, develop and link ideas. They use language features, a variety of sentence types, including complex sentences, tenses, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and/or multimodal features. They spell words, including more complex words using phonic, morphemic and vocabulary knowledge.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Understand that language is selected for social contexts and that it helps to signal social roles and relationships

For example:

- maintaining and experimenting with formal speaking conventions during oral presentations or role-play, such as taking on the role of a politician in parliament

WA5ELAI1

Literacy Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Understand how to move beyond making bare assertions by taking account of differing ideas or opinions and authoritative sources

For example:

- making statements that take account of other opinions, such as Many people may disagree; however, ...
- identifying bare assertions, such as it is the best film ever, or he is the greatest footy player in history and suggest phrases that temper them
- using phrases that temper bare assertions, such as Many people may enjoy swimming; however, ... or Many people believe ...

WA5ELAI2

Literacy Personal and social capability Ethical understanding

Text structure, organisation and features

Compare how texts across learning areas are typically organised into characteristic stages and phases and use language features depending on purposes in texts

For example:

- comparing the phases contained in the opening stage (the thesis or position) of a number of expositions, such as an appeal, problem and/or a proposal
- comparing the phases in the descriptive stages of different types of information reports, such as flora and fauna in a report about a place, and diet and habitat in a report about an animal
- identifying why cause and effect conjunctions are used across a number of informative texts, such as explanations, reports and expositions

WA5ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how texts can be made cohesive by using the starting point of a sentence or paragraph to give prominence to the message and to guide the reader through the text

For example:

- describing how the start of a sentence can change its emphasis, such as Snakes are reptiles. Reptiles include snakes and lizards.

- identifying the topic sentence of paragraphs in informative texts and using these to summarise the text

WA5ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Understand that the structure of a complex sentence includes an independent clause and at least one dependent clause, and understand how writers can use this structure for effect

For example:

- expanding simple sentences through the use of subordinating conjunctions, such as Lea was a great singer although she needed to practise.
- replacing simple and/or compound sentences with a complex sentence for effect, such as I get frightened. Loud noises make me frightened. / I get frightened whenever I hear loud noises.

WA5ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how noun groups can be expanded in a variety of ways to provide a fuller description of a person, place, thing or idea

For example:

- adding appropriate adjectives, classifying nouns and/or prepositions to a noun to enhance writing, such as the strange sea creature with the long black fur

WA5ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Explain how the sequence of images in print, digital and film texts has an effect on meaning

For example:

- interpreting a sequence of images in an infographic or short film
- explaining how the layout of text and visual elements in picture books creates salience or reading paths

WA5ELALA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Understand how vocabulary is used to express greater precision of meaning, including through the use of specialist and technical terms, and explore the history of words

WA5ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Use commas to indicate prepositional phrases, and apostrophes where there is multiple possession

For example:

- including a comma after prepositional phrases that start a sentence, such as Later that same morning, Joe crept into the garden.
- using an apostrophe after the in a plural, such as the boys' jumpers (more than one boy owns a jumper)

WA5ELALA5

Literacy

Phonic and word knowledge

Use phonic, morphemic and vocabulary knowledge to read and spell words that share common letter patterns but have different pronunciations

For example:

- reading and spelling words with common letter patterns but different pronunciation, such as cough, though, plough; your, journey, hour
- reading and spelling words where the consonant sound changes with the addition of a suffix, such as the in invite is sounded as a [sh] when the suffix is added, as in invitation
- identifying morphemic word families with common letter patterns and different pronunciations, such as sign, signature, signal
- providing definitions for common heteronyms (where words are spelled identically but have different pronunciations and meanings), such as graduate (noun, verb), read (past and present tense), wind, bow, record

WA5ELAP1

Literacy

Build and spell new words from knowledge of known words, base words, prefixes and suffixes, word origins, letter patterns and spelling generalisations

For example:

- applying knowledge of base words, and prefixes and suffixes to spell new words, such as unhappiness and uncontrolled
- applying knowledge of word origins to spell new words, such as meaning around, in words, such as circumference

WA5ELAP2

Literacy

Explore less common plurals, and understand how a suffix changes the meaning or grammatical form of a word

For example:

- spelling words with less common plurals, such as child/children, ox/oxen, deer/deer, half/halves
- changing the form of a word, such as
from an adjective to a noun happy/happiness
an adjective to an adverb slow/slowly
a noun to an adjective beauty/beautiful
verb tense, such as walks, is walking, walked
- from an adjective to a noun happy/happiness
- an adjective to an adverb slow/slowly
- a noun to an adjective beauty/beautiful
- verb tense, such as walks, is walking, walked

WA5ELAP3

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Identify aspects of literary texts that represent details or information about historical, social and cultural contexts in literature by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors

For example:

- recording factual information found in texts, such as historical narratives
- exploring how the ideas portrayed in texts, such as Australian bush ballads, represent a historical context, and identifying how attitudes or contexts have changed
- identifying the words and images that an author uses to portray details of a culture or community in a text

WA5ELIC01

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Personal and social capability

Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Present an opinion on a literary text using specific terms about literary devices, text structures and language features, and reflect on the viewpoints of others

For example:

- referring to literary devices and language features when reviewing a text
- discussing own and others' opinions about a text, such as the portrayal of characters or ideas

WA5ELIEN1

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Recognise that the point of view in a literary text influences how readers interpret and respond to events and characters

For example:

- discussing how point of view has an effect on the reader's interpretation of the text, such as changing from third to first person
- considering alternative points of view in a text, such as a text told in the first person from a protagonist's point of view and considering the point of view of the antagonist

WA5ELIEX1

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Examine the effects of imagery, including simile, metaphor and personification, and sound devices in literary texts, such as narratives, poetry and songs

WA5ELIEX2

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts, experimenting with figurative language, storylines, characters and settings from texts students have experienced

For example:

- reimagining characters from a familiar text by experimenting with the language and setting used
- using the structure and language features of a poem as a model to create a new poem

Literacy

Texts in context

Describe the ways in which a text reflects the time and place in which it was created

For example:

- commenting on the social norms that are portrayed in a historical movie or novel
- identifying and discussing patterns of speech or vocabulary that are used in a novel set in another place or time
- describing the ways that a character from another time is similar to or different from contemporary characters or people

Interacting with others

Use appropriate interaction skills, including paraphrasing and critical literacy questioning to clarify meaning, make connections to own experience, and present and justify an opinion or idea

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Explain characteristic features used in imaginative, informative and persuasive texts to meet the purpose of the text

For example:

- evaluating authors' choices, such as why an author has used figurative language in a poem or included photographs of cute animals in a persuasive text about saving the rainforest
- describing the effect audio or visual techniques have on the viewer of a documentary or film, such as sad music or slow motion

Navigate and read texts for specific purposes, monitoring meaning using strategies, such as skimming, scanning and confirming

For example:

- knowing the purpose for reading and adjusting the reading strategy to suit, such as scanning a text to evaluate its suitability for a project or skimming to find specific information
- setting questions before reading and reading to confirm predictions or find information
- discussing reading with others to monitor and confirm meaning, such as when discussing the motives of a character
- using topic sentences, subheadings and other text structures to read efficiently for a purpose

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring and questioning when listening, reading and viewing to build literal and inferred meaning to evaluate information and ideas

For example:

- making predictions about text structures in genres to help understanding and choices for reading
- making connections between literary texts to build inferential comprehension
- setting literal and inferential questions for research purposes, and drawing on a number of texts to evaluate the accuracy of information or ideas
- monitoring for understanding, drawing on explicit and implied meaning, and crosschecking within and across texts
- visualising an event or process to build implied meaning
- determining the importance of key ideas in texts when summarising

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish written and multimodal texts whose purposes may be imaginative, informative and persuasive, developing ideas using visual features, text structure appropriate to the topic and purpose, text connectives, expanded noun groups, specialist and technical vocabulary, and punctuation, including dialogue punctuation

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver spoken and multimodal presentations that include relevant, elaborated ideas, sequencing ideas and using complex sentences, specialist and technical vocabulary, pitch, tone, pace, volume, and visual and digital features

WA5ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Develop a handwriting style that is becoming legible, fluent and automatic

WA5ELYC3

Literacy

Use features of digital tools to create or add to texts for a purpose and audience

For example:

- manipulating an image using digital tools to make it suit a particular audience, such as editing an image to include in a children's picture book
- selecting features of a slideshow to enhance a presentation, considering purpose

WA5ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 6

Year Level Description

In the middle to late childhood phase of schooling, students develop a sense of self, their world expands, and they begin to see themselves as members of larger communities. Learning experiences emphasise and lead to an appreciation of both the commonality and diversity of human experience and concerns.

English provides opportunities for students to develop a sound grasp of spoken, written and visual language and use this in a range of different learning situations in purposeful ways to achieve outcomes across all learning areas.

In Year 6, students use spoken, written and visual communication to interact with audiences for particular purposes. The ability of students to work collaboratively and to develop their interaction skills should be fostered by activities that require group planning and decision-making, and interaction with people inside and outside their classroom.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse and evaluate the texts they engage with. In Year 6, students learn about the uses of subjective and objective language across a range of texts and identify bias. They learn how literary devices create meaning and effect, and how authors adapt structures and language devices for effect.

Students engage with a range of texts for enjoyment and learning. They listen to, read and view spoken, written and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. The range of texts includes imaginative and informative picture books; various types of stories; novels; poetry; dramatic performance; conversations and discussions; non-fiction texts; and media, online and digital texts created for a range of purposes. The features of these texts may be used by students as models for creating their own texts. Texts that support and extend students as independent readers include:

- literary texts that may include complex sequences, such as shifts in time, and a range of less predictable characters, and may explore themes of interpersonal relationships and ethical dilemmas
- texts that enable students to actively build literal and inferred meaning, and connect and compare content
- texts with structures which may include chapters, headings and subheadings, table of contents, indexes and glossaries
- texts with language features, such as complex sentences, unfamiliar technical vocabulary, figurative and idiomatic language, and information presented in various types of images and graphics
- texts that may support students' understanding of authors' styles
- informative texts that may include technical information and/or content about a wide range of topics of interest as well as topics being studied in other areas of the curriculum.

Students create a range of spoken, written, visual and multimodal texts whose purpose may be imaginative, informative and persuasive. These may include narratives, dramatic performances or texts, spoken texts, reports, reviews, poetry, persuasive discussions and/or explanations for particular purposes and audiences. Students make choices about texts according to their interests.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others, and listen to and create spoken and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts. For particular purposes and audiences, they share, develop, explain and elaborate on ideas from topics or texts. They make presentations and contribute actively to class and group discussions. They use and vary text structures to organise, develop and link ideas. They use and vary language features, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and/or multimodal features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students listen to, read, view and comprehend different texts created to inform, entertain or persuade audiences. They use comprehension strategies to build literal and inferred meaning, and to connect and compare information and ideas from a range of texts with more complex text structures, language features, and challenging vocabulary. They identify similarities and differences in how ideas are presented and developed, including through characters, settings and/or events, and how texts reflect contexts. They identify how texts have similar and different text structures to reflect purpose. They explain how language features, literary devices, and visual features influence audiences.

Writing and Creating

Students create written and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts, for particular purposes and audiences, developing, explaining and elaborating on relevant ideas from topics or texts. They use text structures and vary paragraphs to organise, develop and link ideas. They use and vary language features, sentence structures, topic-specific vocabulary and literary devices, and/or multimodal features. They spell more complex words, including some technical words using phonic, morphemic and vocabulary knowledge.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Understand that language varies as levels of formality and social distance increase

For example:

- analysing the use of speech in communities and groups that students belong to, and discussing how the formality of speech changes between them

WA6ELAI1

Literacy Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Understand the uses of objective and subjective language, and identify bias

For example:

- identifying subjective and objective statements, and bias found in texts, such as feature articles, newspaper reports, advertisements and debates

WA6ELAI2

Literacy Personal and social capability Ethical understanding

Text structure, organisation and features

Explain how texts across learning areas are typically organised into characteristic stages and phases depending on purposes, recognising how authors often adapt text structures and language features

For example:

- identifying the adaptations authors make to stages and phases when creating texts, such as including links to shopping hints and health advice or describing the history of the food in online recipes
- explaining how an author could adapt the language features of a persuasive text to appeal to different audiences

WA6ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that cohesion can be created by the intentional use of repetition, and the use of word associations

For example:

- identifying and using repetition for effect, such as I love everything about the beach. I love the sea. I love the sand. I love the wind.
- identifying word associations found in texts, such as I walked the length of the track. I trudged wearily, shuffling and limping along.

WA6ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Understand how embedded clauses can expand the variety of complex sentences to elaborate, extend and explain ideas

For example:

- adding embedded clauses to extend the noun group in sentences, such as The weavers, who were well-known tricksters, promised to make the Emperor new clothes even though they had no intention of doing so.
- adding embedded clauses to explain content, such as If we are to save the numbat, a highly endangered Western Australian marsupial, we must act to preserve their habitat.

WA6ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how ideas can be expanded and sharpened through careful choice of verbs, elaborated tenses and a range of adverb groups

For example:

- exploring the use of precise verbs and adverbs in texts, such as slice thinly, fold carefully into quarters
- using adverb groups to expand ideas, such as she arrives next week or to indicate place, such as he walked under the bridge

WA6ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Identify and explain how images, figures, tables, diagrams, maps and graphs contribute to meaning

For example:

- selecting visual elements which expand ideas or information when creating texts, such as including the results of a survey in a Geography report

WA6ELALA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Identify authors' use of vivid, emotive vocabulary, such as metaphors, similes, personification, idioms, imagery and hyperbole

WA6ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how to use a comma for lists, to separate a dependent clause from an independent clause, and in dialogue

For example:

- using commas to separate a dependent clause from an independent clause when the dependent clause starts a sentence, such as As it was likely to rain, Jane packed her umbrella.
- using commas in dialogue, such as 'From now on', 'warned the giant', 'you will need to follow the path.'

WA6ELALA5

Literacy

Phonic and word knowledge

Use phonic knowledge of common and less common grapheme–phoneme relationships to read and write increasingly complex words

For example:

- reading and writing increasingly complex words with uncommon letter patterns, such as pneumonia, asthma, conscience, cyclic, variable, phenomena, insulator, irreversible

WA6ELAP1

Literacy

Use knowledge of known words, word origins, including some Latin and Greek roots, base words, prefixes, suffixes, letter patterns and spelling generalisations to spell new words, including technical words

For example:

- exploring Greek and Latin roots, such as those found in other learning areas: democracy – demo meaning people and kratia meaning rule
- identifying morphemes that are bound bases that cannot stand alone as a word, such as meaning foot as in pedestrian and pedicure
- spelling words using morphemes that often have consistent spelling although the sound may be different, such as in one, only, once, alone

WA6ELAP2

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Identify responses to characters and events drawn from historical, social or cultural contexts in literary texts by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors

For example:

- discussing how attitudes and responses to a text could be shaped by current events or values (now and then), such as in a historical novel or short story
- identifying stereotypes in texts and discussing how these influence the reader or evoke a personal response, such as in stereotypes of the roles of males and females represented from another time or culture

WA6ELIC01

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Identify similarities and differences in literary texts on similar topics, themes or plots

For example:

- comparing and contrasting two or more literary texts that share similar topics, themes or plots, such as a written text and its film adaptation

WA6ELIEN1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Identify and explain characteristics that define an author's individual style

For example:

- comparing common style characteristics in two texts by the same author/illustrator, such as sentence structure, or use of colour

WA6ELIEX1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Explain the way authors use sound and imagery to create meaning and effect in literary texts, including poetry

WA6ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts that adapt plot structure, characters, settings and/or ideas from texts students have experienced, and experiment with literary devices

For example:

- experimenting with text features to create a hybrid text, such as creating a text that incorporates knowledge from another learning area but also contains literary devices
- editing writing, considering the use of literary devices to enhance plot, characters, setting and/or ideas

WA6ELICR1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Examine texts, including media texts, that represent ideas and events, and identify how they reflect the context in which they were created

For example:

- comparing current and past texts, such as newspaper articles that discuss historical events or issues
- identifying stereotypes in texts from another time or place

WA6ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Interacting with others

Use interaction skills and awareness of formality when paraphrasing, questioning, clarifying and interrogating ideas, developing and supporting arguments, and sharing and evaluating information, experiences and opinions

WA6ELYI1

Literacy Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Analyse how text structures and language features work together to meet the purpose of a text and engage and influence audiences

For example:

- comparing two or more texts on the same topic and evaluating their effectiveness
- considering choices made by the author to engage or influence a target audience

WA6ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Select, navigate and read texts for a range of purposes, monitoring meaning and evaluating the use of structural features, such as a table of contents, glossary, chapters, headings and subheadings

For example:

- setting a reason for reading, selecting appropriate texts and activating prior knowledge about text structures
- monitoring understanding while reading a novel, such as keeping a reading journal
- ranking texts based on their suitability for a particular purpose, such as websites

WA6ELYA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring and questioning when listening, reading and viewing to build literal and inferred meaning, and to connect and compare content from a variety of sources

For example:

- using prior knowledge about genres when selecting texts and building meaning
- making connections to general knowledge or subject knowledge when building literal and inferential understanding of settings, characters or events in literary texts
- monitoring the truth or accuracy of texts by making connections to other texts to evaluate information or ideas
- comparing and connecting information or ideas across a number of texts to create a summary

WA6ELYA3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish written and multimodal texts whose purposes may be imaginative, informative and persuasive, using paragraphs, a variety of complex sentences, expanded verb groups, tense, topic-specific and vivid vocabulary, punctuation, spelling and visual features

WA6ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver spoken and multimodal presentations that include information, arguments and details that develop a theme or idea, organising ideas using precise topic-specific and technical vocabulary, pitch, tone, pace, volume, and visual and digital features

WA6ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Develop a handwriting style that is legible, fluent and automatic and varies according to purpose and audience

WA6ELYC3

Literacy

Select and use features of digital tools to create or add to texts for a purpose and audience

For example:

- using a range of features when using a digital tool to create a text for a specific purpose and audience, such as an informative presentation

WA6ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 7

Year Level Description

In the early adolescence phase of schooling, students align with their peer group and begin to question established conventions, practices and values. Learning and teaching programs assist students to develop a broader and more comprehensive understanding of the contexts of their lives and the world in which they live.

English provides opportunities for students to extend their interests beyond their own communities, and they begin to develop awareness about wider issues. Students' interest in the natural, social, cultural and technological world is often related to the impact on them personally and can help them in their current and future lives.

In Year 7, students' growing independence and peer-group orientation should be built upon by providing opportunities for them to participate in important forms of decision-making within the classroom and to work with others. Through such experiences students assume increased responsibilities, explore values and further refine their social and collaborative work skills.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse, evaluate and synthesise the texts they engage with. In Year 7, students learn how text structures and language features vary according to audience and purpose, and how techniques influence emotions and opinions and create meaning.

Students engage with a range of texts for learning and enjoyment. They listen to, read, view, analyse, interpret, evaluate, create and perform a range of spoken, written and multimodal texts. These texts may include various types of media texts (including screen, online and digital texts), narratives (including novels), non-fiction, poetry and plays. They understand how the features of texts may be used as models for creating their own work. The range of texts includes:

- literary texts that may be drawn from a range of genres, may involve some challenging sequences of events and/or less predictable characters, may explore themes of interpersonal relationships and ethical dilemmas in real-world and fictional settings, and represent a variety of perspectives
- informative, analytical and persuasive texts that may present technical information and content from credible sources about specialised topics
- texts with a variety of language features that may include successive complex sentences with embedded clauses, unfamiliar technical vocabulary, figurative and rhetorical language, and/or information supported by various types of images and graphics.

Students create a range of texts whose purposes may be aesthetic, imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive and/or analytical. These texts may include narratives, dramatic performances and scripts, reports, responses (including reviews and personal reflections), arguments, literary analyses, discussions, visual texts, oral and audio texts, poetry and types of media, online and digital texts for different audiences.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others, and listen to and create spoken and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts. With different purposes and for audiences, they discuss, express and expand ideas with evidence. They adopt text structures to organise, develop and link ideas. They adopt language features, literary devices and/or multimodal features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students read, view and comprehend texts created to inform, influence and/or engage audiences. They explain and discuss how ideas are portrayed and how texts are influenced by contexts. They explain and discuss the aesthetic qualities of texts, and how text structures, language features, literary devices and visual features shape meaning. They select evidence from texts to develop their own response.

Writing and Creating

Students create written and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts, for different purposes and audiences, expressing and expanding on ideas with evidence. They adopt text structures to organise, develop and link ideas. They adopt language features, literary devices and/or multimodal features.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Understand how language expresses and creates personal and social identities

For example:

- developing dialogue that reveals character, such as in a comic

WA7ELAI1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Recognise language used to evaluate texts, including visual and multimodal texts, and how evaluations of a text can be substantiated by reference to the text and other sources

For example:

- building knowledge about words of evaluation, including words to express emotional responses to texts, such as shock, fear, anger, happiness and concern
- discussing how evaluative language is used to critically assess the validity of evidence and the reliability of sources, through using metalanguage, such as rigorous, biased, trustworthy, consistent and accurate

WA7ELAI2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Text structure, organisation and features

Identify and describe how text structures and language features vary in texts according to purpose

For example:

- examining the structures of book or film reviews and how they might move from description of context to summary of the text and then to judgement of the text
- explaining the social purpose of a persuasive text and how the purpose is reflected in the text structures and by the language features, such as analysing the structure and language features of a health awareness poster

WA7ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand that the cohesion of texts relies on devices that signal structure and guide readers, such as overviews and initial and concluding paragraphs

For example:

- identifying strategies used to create cohesion when analysing the structure of a text, such as a print or online news article
- identifying how authors foreshadow how a text will unfold, through topic sentences, sentence openers and text connectives

WA7ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Understand how complex and compound-complex sentences can be used to elaborate, extend and explain ideas

For example:

- examining the addition of ideas using a compound-complex sentence, such as When dinosaurs roamed the earth, weather patterns shifted significantly and as a result vegetation was depleted.

- consolidating knowledge of simple, compound and complex sentences, recognising that a simple sentence can express sophisticated ideas and a complex sentence need not express complex ideas

WA7ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how consistency of tense through verbs and verb groups achieves clarity in sentences

For example:

- identifying and discussing how verb tense is maintained in compound, complex and compound-complex sentences

WA7ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Analyse how techniques, such as vectors, angle and/or framing in visual and multimodal texts can be used to create a perspective

For example:

- comparing how two advertisements present the same product for different target audiences, and how their use of techniques creates different perspectives

WA7ELALA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Investigate the role of vocabulary in building specialist and technical knowledge, including terms that have both everyday and technical meanings

For example:

- applying vocabulary used to write about graphic novels, such as gutter, bleed, panel, splash, transitions and emanata

WA7ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand and use punctuation, including colons and brackets to support meaning

For example:

- examining ways to add information to sentences by using different forms of punctuation

WA7ELALA5

Literacy

Word knowledge

Understand how to use spelling rules and word origins; for example, Greek and Latin roots, base words, suffixes, prefixes and spelling patterns to learn new words and how to spell them

For example:

- using spelling generalisations (rules), such as change final y to i before adding a suffix, unless the y is preceded by a vowel or unless the suffix begins with i in words like cried, crying
- using knowledge of Greek and Latin roots to understand and spell words with prefixes, such as antidote, antibiotic or presume, prepare
- using spelling patterns to learn new words, such as drought, bough, plough

WA7ELAW1

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Identify and explore ideas, perspectives, characters, events and/or issues in literary texts drawn from historical, social and/or cultural contexts by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors and creators

For example:

- investigating different perspectives about the Australian landscape (e.g. the bush, city, sea) in a range of poems

WA7ELICO1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Form an opinion about characters, settings and events in texts, identifying areas of agreement and difference with others' opinions and justifying a response

For example:

- participating in a class discussion about a favourite character or event from a novel

WA7ELIEN1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Explain the ways that literary devices and language features, such as dialogue, and visual and audio features are used to create character, and to influence emotions and opinions in different types of texts

For example:

- identifying how the protagonist or antagonist in a film is constructed through visual and audio features, such as dialogue, music, costuming, lighting, framing, camera angles and camera movement
- comparing the representations of the same character in a comic book and a film, and exploring how they prompt similar or different responses

WA7ELIEN2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Discuss the aesthetic and social value of literary texts using relevant and appropriate metalanguage

For example:

- exploring how fairytales or fables convey important social values
- examining how the covers of different picture books are visually appealing

WA7ELIEN3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Examining literature

Identify and explain the ways that characters, settings and events combine to create meaning in narratives

For example:

- exploring traditional stories from Asia and discussing their features, such as use of the oral mode or visual elements to convey the narrative

WA7ELIEX1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Identify and explain how literary devices create layers of meaning in texts, including poetry

For example:

- discussing the layers of meaning created by imagery in poems and songs by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander authors
- using metalanguage, such as simile, metaphor, onomatopoeia and alliteration to explain how the use of figurative language and sound devices in poetry creates layers of meaning

WA7ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts that experiment with language features and literary devices encountered in texts

For example:

- developing a prequel or sequel using an imagined series of life events of a character presented in a scripted monologue
- experimenting with different narrative structures, such as the epistolary form, flashback and multiple narrators

WA7ELICR1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Explain the effect of current technology on reading, creating and responding to texts, including media texts

For example:

- exploring new forms of digital texts, such as social media and vlogs, and the interactive nature of the responses they generate
- investigating how picture books have been adapted into different forms, such as short films, animations and audiobooks using current technology

WA7ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Digital literacy

Interacting with others

Use interaction skills when discussing and presenting ideas and information, including evaluations of the features of spoken texts

For example:

- listening to a peer's oral presentation about an autobiographical event and asking a clarifying question
- choosing appropriate vocabulary and sentence structures for purposes and audiences

WA7ELYI1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Analyse the ways in which language features shape meaning and vary according to purpose and audience

For example:

- explaining the relationship between language features, and purpose and audience, such as identifying the most likely target audience for a television show

WA7ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Ethical understanding

Explain how ideas are organised through the use of text structures, such as taxonomies, cause and effect, extended metaphors and chronology

For example:

- identifying cause and effect in persuasive texts and how an audience may be convinced to take a course of action
- explaining how a key idea in a speech is represented through an extended metaphor

WA7ELYA2

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring, questioning and inferring, to analyse and summarise information and ideas when listening, reading and viewing

For example:

- determining and summarising the key idea/s of paragraphs or chapters in an informative text
- comparing the presentation of ideas in formal and informal speeches and determining the reasons for the differences

WA7ELYA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish written and multimodal texts, selecting subject matter, and using text structures, language features, literary devices and visual features as appropriate to convey information, ideas and opinions in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive and/or analytical

WA7ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver spoken and multimodal presentations for purpose and audience in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive and/or analytical, by selecting text structures, language features, literary devices and visual features, and using features of voice, including volume, tone, pitch and pace

WA7ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Consolidate a personal handwriting style that is legible, fluent and automatic and supports writing for extended periods

WA7ELYC3

Literacy

Select and use features of digital tools to create texts for different purposes and audiences

For example:

- creating a multimodal book trailer to promote a novel to a specific audience
- creating an extract from an audiobook that incorporates narration, sound effects and music to engage the listener

WA7ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 8

Year Level Description

In the early adolescence phase of schooling, students align with their peer group and begin to question established conventions, practices and values. Learning and teaching programs assist students to develop a broader and more comprehensive understanding of the contexts of their lives and the world in which they live.

English provides opportunities for students to extend their interests beyond their own communities, and they begin to develop awareness about wider issues. Students' interest in the natural, social, cultural and technological world is often related to the impact on them personally and can help them in their current and future lives.

In Year 8, students' growing independence and peer-group orientation should be built upon by providing opportunities for them to participate in important forms of decision-making within the classroom and to work with others. Through such experiences students assume increased responsibilities, explore values and further refine their social and collaborative work skills.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse, evaluate and synthesise the texts they engage with. In Year 8, students learn how text structures, language features and intertextual references vary according to audience and purpose, and how some texts may be hybrids, and combine different genres. They learn how texts represent values and how techniques position the audience to form perspectives.

Students engage with a range of texts for learning and enjoyment. They listen to, read, view, analyse, interpret, evaluate, create and perform a range of spoken, written and multimodal texts. These texts may include various types of media texts (including screen, online and digital texts), narratives (including novels), non-fiction, poetry and plays. Students develop their understanding of how texts relate to context, purpose and audience. They understand how the features of texts may be used as models for creating their own work. The range of texts includes:

- literary texts that may be drawn from a range of genres, may involve intertextual references, some challenging sequences and/or non-stereotypical characters, may explore themes of interpersonal relationships and ethical dilemmas in real-world and fictional settings, and/or represent a variety of perspectives
- informative, analytical and persuasive texts that may present technical information and abstract content from credible sources about specialised topics and concepts
- texts with a variety of language features that may include successive complex sentences with embedded clauses, unfamiliar technical vocabulary, figurative and rhetorical language, and/or information supported by various types of images and graphics.

Students create a range of texts whose purposes may be aesthetic, imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive and/or analytical. These texts may include narratives, dramatic performances and scripts, reports, responses (including reviews and personal reflections), arguments, literary analyses, discussions, visual texts, oral and audio texts, poetry, and types of media (including screen, online and digital texts) for different audiences.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others, and listen to and create spoken and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts. With different purposes and for audiences, they discuss, express and elaborate on ideas with supporting evidence. They select and vary text structures to organise, develop and link ideas. They select and vary language features, literary devices and/or multimodal features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students read, view and comprehend a range of texts created to inform, influence and/or engage audiences. They discuss and analyse how ideas are represented and how texts reflect or challenge contexts. They discuss and analyse the aesthetic qualities of texts, and how text structures shape meaning. They discuss and analyse the effects of language features, intertextual references, literary devices and visual features. They select supporting evidence from texts to develop their own response.

Writing and Creating

Students create written and/or multimodal texts, including literary texts, for different purposes and audiences, expressing and advancing ideas with supporting evidence. They select and vary text structures to organise, develop and link ideas. They select and vary language features, literary devices and/or multimodal features.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Recognise how language shapes relationships and roles

For example:

identifying language names that inform relationships to Country/Place by exploring the Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies Map of Indigenous Australia

WA8ELA11

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Understand how layers of meaning can be created within a text by using literary devices, such as simile and metaphor to evaluate

For example:

- identifying how authors use rhetorical devices that reveal the dark or serious aspects of a topic in humorous or amusing ways, such as by making a statement but implying or meaning the opposite (irony), exaggerating or overstating something (hyperbole), imitating or mocking something (parody), and making something appear less serious than it really is (understatement)

WA8ELA12

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Text structure, organisation and features

Explain how text structures and language features vary depending on their purpose, recognising that some texts are hybrids that combine different genres or elements of different genres

For example:

- discussing how a verse novel combines elements of poetry and prose narrative
- exploring how mockumentaries blend elements of fiction and documentary

WA8ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how cohesion in texts is improved by strengthening the internal structure of paragraphs with examples, quotations and substantiation of claims

For example:

- writing a paragraph in an analytical essay that includes quotes and examples from a studied text
- including statistics and facts to substantiate claims in a persuasive speech

WA8ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Examine a variety of clause structures, including embedded clauses, that add information and expand ideas in sentences

For example:

- investigating how the meaning of a sentence can be changed by inserting different embedded clauses, such as French fries, which are a fattening and unhealthy snack, are made from potatoes. / French fries, which are a delicious treat, are made from potatoes.

WA8ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand the effect of nominalisation in texts

For example:

- highlighting examples of nominalisation in informative texts and explaining the impact on content and tone
- converting verbs to nouns using a suffix, such as achieve to achievement or act to action

WA8ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Investigate how visual and multimodal texts use intertextual references to enhance and layer meaning

For example:

- identifying intertextual references in picture books and discussing how they create meaning

WA8ELALA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Identify and use vocabulary typical of academic texts

For example:

- employing vocabulary of academic report writing, such as evidence, consequence, contradiction and acknowledgement

WA8ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand and use punctuation conventions, including semicolons and dashes, to extend ideas and support meaning

For example:

- creating dialogue in drama showing interruptions, asides and pauses for effect
- experimenting with connecting related independent clauses, such as I love that film; the graphics were incredible.

WA8ELALA5

Literacy

Word knowledge

Apply learnt word knowledge to spell new words and apply strategies to maintain accuracy

For example:

- drawing on knowledge of spelling generalisations, base words and affixes when spelling new words
- drawing on increasing knowledge of word origins to understand and spell new words, such as using circum (around) to spell circumstance, circumference
- applying strategies to maintain accuracy, such as proofreading, checking an authority or using spell check

WA8ELAW1

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Explain the ways that ideas and perspectives may represent the values of individuals and groups in literary texts drawn from historical, social and cultural contexts by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors and creators

For example:

- investigating the ways films and television by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander creators represent unique ways of being, knowing, thinking and doing
- exploring how short stories by migrant Australian authors represent values of particular groups

WA8ELIC01

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Share opinions about the language features, literary devices and text structures that contribute to the styles of literary texts

For example:

- discussing opinions about how music and lighting contribute to a film's style

WA8ELIEN1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Explain how language and/or visual and audio features in texts position listeners, readers and viewers to respond and form perspectives

For example:

- sharing opinions in an online class blog or forum about how a short story positions the reader to respond to a theme

WA8ELIEN2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Identify intertextual references in literary texts and explain how the references enable new understanding of the aesthetic quality of the text

For example:

- identifying intertextual references through allusion within a poem and discussing how knowledge of other texts influences the reader's understanding and appreciation

WA8ELIEX1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Analyse how language features, such as sentence patterns create tone, and literary devices, such as imagery create meaning and effect

For example:

- explaining how Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander authors use words and language to set tone when writing or speaking about specific themes, such as words used to set the tone when writing or speaking about Country/Place
- exploring how sensory imagery draws the reader into the world of a poem or narrative

WA8ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts that experiment with language features and literary devices for particular purposes and effects

For example:

- collaborating with a peer to write a short script with two characters, focusing on dialogue choices to establish character
- editing the use of imagery and word choices when creating a literary text and reflecting on the effect of those changes

WA8ELICR1

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Identify how texts relate to contexts

For example:

- identifying how famous advertisements and posters relate to the context in which they were created
- exploring how a popular song relates to a historical context

WA8ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Interacting with others

Use interaction skills for identified purposes and situations, including when supporting or challenging the stated or implied meanings of spoken texts in presentations or discussions

For example:

- using appropriate linguistic, vocal and non-verbal protocols in a panel discussion about a social issue
- demonstrating active listening skills, such as using positive body language, rephrasing to confirm understanding, offering suitable responses and asking open questions

WA8ELYI1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Analyse and evaluate the ways that language features vary according to the purpose and audience of the text, and the ways that sources and quotations are used in a text

For example:

- exploring how a persuasive text uses sources and quotations to strengthen its purpose and to appeal to a particular audience

WA8ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Ethical understanding

Analyse how authors and creators use text structures to organise ideas and develop and shape meaning

For example:

- analysing how the organisation of an infographic shapes its meaning
- explaining how the structure of a webpage visually signals its hierarchy

WA8ELYA2

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring, questioning and inferring, to interpret and evaluate ideas when listening, reading and viewing

For example:

- participating in before, during and after reading activities, such as class discussions, completing graphic organisers and keeping a reading journal, to monitor evolving comprehension
- interpreting and evaluating the selection and composition of an image or graphic in a news or online feature article

WA8ELYA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish written and multimodal texts, organising and expanding ideas, and selecting text structures, language features, literary devices and visual features for purposes and audiences in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive and/or analytical

WA8ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver spoken and multimodal presentations for purpose and audience, selecting language features, literary devices, visual features and features of voice to suit formal or informal situations, and organising and developing ideas in texts in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive and/or analytical

WA8ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Consolidate a personal handwriting style that is legible, fluent and automatic and supports writing for extended periods in relevant required contexts

WA8ELYC3

Literacy

Select and vary features of digital tools to create texts for different purposes and audiences

For example:

- creating a mock sponsored social media post aimed at a particular audience
- creating a vlog that reflects the style of a specific video sharing platform

WA8ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 9

Year Level Description

In the middle adolescence phase of schooling, teaching and learning programs encourage students to develop an open and questioning view of themselves as active participants in their society and the world.

English provides opportunities for students to understand that particular ways of working and thinking have developed over time but still may be subject to debate, revision and change. Students develop a broader and more comprehensive understanding of the contexts of their lives and the world in which they live.

In Year 9, students use spoken, written or visual communication to interact with others and experience learning in familiar and unfamiliar contexts, including local or global community and vocational contexts. Teaching and learning programs should encourage students to develop an open and questioning view. Learning experiences should enable students to draw on increasingly diverse sources of information that facilitate comparing, contrasting, synthesising, questioning and critiquing information.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse, evaluate and synthesise the texts they engage with. In Year 9, students learn how authors and creators adapt and experiment with text structures and language features. They learn how texts represent people and places and how techniques contribute to style, mood and tone.

Students engage with a range of texts for learning and enjoyment. They listen to, read, view, analyse, interpret, evaluate, create and perform a wide range of spoken, written and multimodal texts. These texts may include various types of media texts (including screen, online and digital texts), narratives (including novels), non-fiction, poetry and plays. Themes and issues may involve levels of abstraction, higher order reasoning and intertextual references. Students are beginning to develop a critical understanding of how texts, language, and visual and audio features relate to context, purpose and audience. They understand how the features of texts may be used as models for creating their own work. The range of texts includes:

- literary texts that may be drawn from a range of genres, may involve complex, challenging plot sequences and/or hybrid structures that may serve multiple purposes, and may explore themes of human experience and cultural significance, interpersonal relationships, and/or ethical and global dilemmas in real-world and fictional settings. These texts may represent a variety of perspectives
- informative, analytical and persuasive texts that may represent a synthesis of technical and abstract information (from credible or verifiable sources) about a wide range of specialised topics and concepts
- texts with a variety of language features that may include successive complex sentences with embedded clauses, a high proportion of unfamiliar and technical vocabulary, figurative and rhetorical language, and/or dense information supported by various types of images and graphics.

Students create a range of texts whose purposes may be aesthetic, imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive, analytical and/or critical. These texts may include narratives, dramatic performances and scripts, reports, responses (including reviews and personal reflections), arguments, literary analyses, discussions, visual texts, oral and audio texts, poetry, and types of media (including screen, online and digital texts) for a range of audiences.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others, and listen to and create spoken and multimodal texts, including literary texts. With a range of purposes and for audiences, they discuss and expand on ideas, shaping meaning and providing substantiation. They select and experiment with text structures to organise and develop ideas. They select and experiment with language features, literary devices, multimodal features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students read, view and comprehend a range of texts created to inform, influence and/or engage audiences. They analyse and interpret representations of people, places, events and concepts, and how texts reflect contexts. They analyse and interpret the aesthetic qualities of texts and the effects of text structures, language features, literary devices, intertextual references and multimodal features. They incorporate supporting evidence from texts to provide substantiation.

Writing and Creating

Students create written and multimodal texts, including literary texts, for a range of purposes and audiences, expressing and expanding ideas, shaping meaning and providing substantiation. They select and experiment with text structures to organise, develop and link ideas. They select and experiment with language features and literary devices, and experiment with multimodal features.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Recognise how language empowers relationships and roles

For example:

- identifying the various communities to which students belong and exploring how language reinforces membership of these communities, such as the slang of teenage groups

WA9ELAI1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Understand how evaluation can be expressed directly and indirectly using devices, such as allusion, evocative vocabulary and metaphor

For example:

- exploring how advertisements use figurative language and evocative vocabulary to indirectly influence readers and viewers to evaluate a product or service
- discussing the direct use of evaluative language in a range of product reviews

WA9ELAI2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Text structure, organisation and features

Examine how authors and creators adapt text structures and language features by experimenting with spoken, written, visual and multimodal elements and their combination

For example:

- comparing the use and effects of linear and non-linear narrative structures in short stories
- exploring how interactive graphic novels combine words, illustrations, animations and audio to create an interactive experience

WA9ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Investigate a range of cohesive devices that condense information in texts, including nominalisation, and devices that link, expand and develop ideas, including text connectives

For example:

- sequencing and developing an argument using language, such as initially, moreover and consequently

WA9ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Identify how authors vary sentence structures creatively for effects, such as intentionally using a dependent clause on its own or a sentence fragment

For example:

- exploring the effects of using an interrupting clause, such as His friend, who had left home the previous year, suddenly returned.
- using a dependent clause on its own intentionally, such as If you see what I mean.
- using a sentence fragment, such as Breathtaking!

WA9ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how abstract nouns and nominalisation can be used to summarise ideas in texts

For example:

- exploring sections of academic and technical texts, and analysing the use of abstract nouns, such as the previous argument and the prologue to summarise and distil information and preceding explanations, and structure the argument
- comparing the effect of different types of analytical paragraphs, including those that use nominalisation and those that do not

WA9ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Analyse how symbols in visual and multimodal texts augment meaning

For example:

- investigating the symbolism of specific seasons, weather and colours in a film, and their contribution to viewers' understandings
- exploring how symbols have different meanings for different groups and cultures

WA9ELALA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Analyse how vocabulary choices contribute to style, mood and tone

For example:

- identifying vocabulary choices that create mood in a text
- altering the tone of a narrative by changing the vocabulary in dialogue tags, such as 'Sit down,' she whispered. 'Sit down!' she screamed. 'Sit down?' she argued.

WA9ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand and use punctuation conventions for referencing and citing others for formal and informal purposes

For example:

- producing accurate references in formal writing and identifying when it is appropriate to use direct quotations or to report sources more generally
- including a reference list at the end of a slideshow in a multimodal presentation

WA9ELALA5

Literacy

Word knowledge

Use word knowledge to maintain conventional spelling, and recognise that spelling can be varied for particular effects

For example:

- exploring the spelling of neologisms and their effects in media texts, such as selfie and Paralympics
- analysing how spelling is used to represent the distinctive speech of a character by noting where authors have dropped letters from words to emulate the sound of spoken words

WA9ELAW1

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Analyse the representations of people and places in literary texts drawn from historical, social and cultural contexts by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors and creators

For example:

- exploring and comparing representations of values of characters, such as exploring the values associated with family in short stories drawn from different cultures and times
- examining how picture books and graphic novels by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander authors and creators represent places in particular ways

WA9ELIC01

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Personal and social capability

Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Present a personal response to a literary text comparing initial impressions and subsequent analysis of the whole text

For example:

- recording evolving responses to a novel in a reading journal

WA9ELIEN1

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Personal and social capability

Analyse how features of literary texts influence readers' preference for texts

For example:

- devising, analysing and presenting the results of a survey that asks friends and family to vote on why readers prefer particular literary texts by considering reasons, such as characterisation, setting details, plot events, themes and figurative language
- discussing how language features are crafted for an intended audience in a range of picture books aimed at young children

WA9ELIEN2

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Personal and social capability

Examining literature

Analyse texts and evaluate the aesthetic qualities and appeal of an author's and creator's literary style

For example:

- comparing poems created by the same author to determine literary style, assessing their appeal and presenting comparisons to other poems
- discussing similarities and differences in aesthetic qualities and appeal in two film versions of the same story by different creators

WA9ELIEX1

Literacy

Critical and creative thinking

Personal and social capability

Analyse the effect of text structures, language features and literary devices, such as extended metaphor, metonymy, allegory, symbolism and intertextual references

For example:

- analysing how text structures, language features and literary devices are used in a play to influence the emotional response of the audience
- investigating the effect of metonymy in song lyrics and poetry

WA9ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts, which may be hybrid, that experiment with text structures, language features and literary devices for purposes and audiences

For example:

- taking an existing short story in print form and making a short film
- producing a hybrid literary text, that combines features of different genres, such as a coming of age/science fiction narrative

WA9ELICR1

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Analyse how representations of people, places, events and concepts relate to contexts

For example:

- analysing the representation of a public figure in different types of news media and biographies and recognising how these vary in different contexts
- analysing the language features used to represent individuals or groups in advertisements from different time periods

WA9ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Interacting with others

Listen to spoken texts that have different purposes and audiences, analysing how language features position listeners to respond in particular ways, and use interaction skills to present and discuss opinions regarding these texts

For example:

- presenting a tutorial to the class analysing the purpose, audience and language features of a famous speech
- using effective strategies for dialogue and discussion in a range of formal and informal contexts, including speaking clearly and coherently and at appropriate length, asking questions about stated and implied ideas, and restating and summarising main ideas

WA9ELYI1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Analyse and evaluate how language features are used to represent a perspective of an issue, event, situation, individual or group

For example:

- evaluating how a documentary uses language features to represent a perspective on a contentious issue

WA9ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Ethical understanding

Analyse the use of text structures within paragraphs and extended texts, and evaluate their impact on ideas and meaning

For example:

- evaluating text structures used in non-fiction texts to shape reader response, such as comparison, contrast, juxtaposition, the changing of chronological order, and the expansion and compression of time

WA9ELYA2

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Use comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring, questioning and inferring, to compare and contrast ideas and opinions in and between texts when listening, reading and viewing

For example:

- comparing the representation of a news event across spoken, print and online sources, summarising their qualities, identifying opinions and analysing evidence
- connecting information explored in a speech to prior knowledge about a social issue

WA9ELYA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish written and multimodal texts, organising, expanding and developing ideas, and selecting text structures, language features, literary devices and multimodal features for purposes and audiences in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive, analytical and/or critical

WA9ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver spoken and multimodal presentations for purpose and audience, using language features, literary devices and features of voice, such as volume, tone, pitch and pace, and organising, expanding and developing ideas in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive, analytical and/or critical

WA9ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Consolidate a personal handwriting style that is legible, fluent and automatic and supports writing for extended periods in relevant required contexts

WA9ELYC3

Literacy

Select and experiment with features of digital tools to create texts for a range of purposes and audiences

For example:

- creating an advertising campaign, including a print advertisement and audio/visual commercial, for a particular audience
- creating a short interactive graphic novel or picture book that incorporates words, audio and visual elements

WA9ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy

Year 10

Year Level Description

In the middle adolescence phase of schooling, teaching and learning programs encourage students to develop an open and questioning view of themselves as active participants in their society and the world.

English provides opportunities for students to understand that particular ways of working and thinking have developed over time but still may be subject to debate, revision and change. Students develop a broader and more comprehensive understanding of the contexts of their lives and the world in which they live.

In Year 10, students use spoken, written or visual communication to interact with others and experience learning in familiar and unfamiliar contexts, including local or global community and vocational contexts. Teaching and learning programs should encourage students to develop an open and questioning view. Learning experiences should enable students to draw on increasingly diverse and complex sources of information that facilitate comparing, contrasting, synthesising, questioning and critiquing information.

Critical literacy is integral to the English curriculum. It is developed when students actively question, analyse, evaluate and synthesise the texts they engage with. In Year 10, students learn how language features and text structures may have aesthetic qualities. They learn how representations of individuals, groups and places relate to context and how techniques shape values, beliefs and attitudes.

Students engage with a range of texts for learning and enjoyment. They listen to, read, view, analyse, interpret, evaluate, create and perform a wide range of spoken, written and multimodal texts. These texts may include various types of media (including screen, online and digital texts), narratives (including novels), non-fiction, poetry and plays. Themes and issues may involve levels of abstraction, higher order reasoning and intertextual references. Students develop a critical understanding of how texts, language, and visual and audio features relate to context, purpose and audience. They understand how the features of texts may be used as models for creating their own work. The range of texts includes:

- literary texts that may be drawn from a range of genres that may involve complex, challenging plot sequences and hybrid structures that may serve multiple purposes and that may explore themes of human experience and cultural significance, interpersonal relationships, and ethical and global dilemmas in real-world and fictional settings. These texts may represent a variety of perspectives
- informative, analytical and persuasive texts that may represent a synthesis of technical and abstract information (from credible or verifiable sources) about specialised topics and concepts
- texts with a variety of language features that may include successive complex sentences with embedded clauses, a high proportion of unfamiliar and technical vocabulary, figurative and rhetorical language, and/or dense information supported by various types of images and graphics.

Students create a range of texts whose purposes may be aesthetic, imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive, analytical and/or critical. These texts may include narratives, dramatic performances and scripts, reports, responses (including reviews and personal reflections), arguments, literary analyses, discussions, visual texts, oral and audio texts, poetry and types of media (including screen, online and digital texts) for a range of audiences.

Achievement Standard

By the end of the year:

Speaking and Listening

Students interact with others, and listen to and create spoken and multimodal texts, including literary texts. With a range of purposes and for audiences, they discuss ideas and responses to representations, making connections and providing substantiation. They select, adapt and experiment with text structures to organise and develop ideas. They select, adapt, vary and experiment with language features, rhetorical and literary devices, and experiment with multimodal features and features of voice.

Reading and Viewing

Students read, view and comprehend a range of texts created to inform, influence and engage audiences. They analyse, interpret and evaluate representations of people, places, events and concepts, and how interpretations of these may be influenced by readers and viewers. They analyse, interpret and evaluate the effects of text structures, language features, literary devices, intertextual connections and multimodal features, and their contribution to the aesthetic qualities of texts. They incorporate supporting evidence from texts to provide substantiation.

Writing and Creating

Students create written and multimodal texts, including literary texts, for a range of purposes and audiences, expressing ideas and representations, making connections and providing substantiation. They select, adapt and experiment with text structures to organise, develop and link ideas and representations. They select, adapt, vary and experiment with language features, literary devices, and multimodal features.

Content Descriptions

Language

Language for interacting with others

Understand how language can have inclusive and exclusive social effects, and can empower or disempower people

For example:

- writing an open letter that uses language to empower a social group
- discussing how language can be disempowering, such as the use of gendered words manpower or housewife

WA10ELAI1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Understand that language used to evaluate, implicitly or explicitly, reveals an individual's values

For example:

- identifying subtle or implied values communicated through evaluative language, such as the connotations of elder, senior citizen, geriatric and old timer

WA10ELAI2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Text structure, organisation and features

Analyse text structures and language features and evaluate their effectiveness in achieving their purpose

For example:

- evaluating the use of visual, audio and written features and structures to influence audience responses in television and online news and current affairs programs

WA10ELAT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how paragraph structure can be varied to create cohesion, and paragraphs and visual features can be integrated for different purposes

For example:

- evaluating the effect of the integration of texts and images in graphic novels
- writing an online or print feature article which integrates graphics or images for a purpose

WA10ELAT2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Language for expressing and developing ideas

Analyse and evaluate the effectiveness of particular sentence structures to express and craft ideas

For example:

- exploring how a sentence can begin with a coordinating conjunction for stylistic effect, such as And she went on planning how she would manage it.

WA10ELALA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Analyse how meaning and style are achieved through syntax

For example:

- identifying how logical relations between ideas are built up by combining main with subordinate clauses that indicate cause, result, manner, concession, condition and so on, such as Although the poet was not generally well-received by critics during her life, her reputation grew substantially after her death.

WA10ELALA2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Evaluate the features of visual and multimodal texts, and the effects of those choices on representations

For example:

- examining features of drama television shows that create representations, such as evaluating the use of light and dark

WA10ELALA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Use an expanded technical and academic vocabulary for precision when writing academic texts

For example:

- writing an analytical essay about rhythm in poetry with appropriate use of terms, such as enjambment, end-stop, caesura

WA10ELALA4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Understand how authors use and experiment with punctuation

For example:

- examining an author's use of ellipses to create tentativeness in a character's speech
- reviewing the use of punctuation to represent emotions, such as the use of multiple exclamation marks or punctuation emojis

WA10ELALA5

Literacy

Word knowledge

Use word knowledge to maintain conventional spelling and to manipulate standard spelling for particular effects

For example:

- exploring the use of 'sensational spelling' in which words are deliberately spelt in non-standard ways, such as kwik-e-mart

WA10ELAW1

Literacy

Literature

Literature and contexts

Analyse representations of individuals, groups and places and evaluate how they relate to contexts in literary texts by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, wide-ranging Australian and world authors and creators

For example:

- analysing how stories written by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander authors modernise traditional stories, and evaluating the responses of contemporary audiences
- investigating how a creator's personal, cultural and/or social context influences the ways in which they represent an individual, group or place in a literary text

WA10ELICO1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Engaging with and responding to literature

Reflect on and extend others' interpretations of and responses to literary texts

For example:

- presenting an argument based on close textual analysis and further research to support an interpretation of a play, such as creating a set of director's notes

WA10ELIEN1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Analyse how the aesthetic qualities associated with text structures, language features, literary devices and visual features, and the context in which these texts are experienced, influence audience response

For example:

- discussing how audiences responded to a classic film at its time of production and how a contemporary audience might respond to the film today
- exploring the aesthetic qualities of a popular literary text

WA10ELIEN2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Evaluate the social, moral or ethical perspectives represented in literary texts

For example:

- identifying and analysing ethical perspectives on a significant issue in a novel, including values and/or principles involved, and evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of the perspectives presented
- considering the moral perspective adopted by a documentary and evaluating whether it aligns with the viewer's personal stance

WA10ELIEN3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking

Examining literature

Analyse how text structure, language features, literary devices and intertextual connections shape interpretations of texts

For example:

- examining satirical representations of events or ideas and determining how satire shapes interpretations and responses

WA10ELIEX1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Compare and evaluate how 'voice' as a literary device is used in different types of texts, such as poetry, novels and film, to evoke emotional responses

For example:

- comparing the 'voice' of protest in a range of poems and songs, evaluating how different voices evoke a response

WA10ELIEX2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Analyse and evaluate the aesthetic qualities of texts

For example:

- considering how the two parts of the glossary definition of aesthetic – 'concerned with a sense of beauty' and 'an appreciation of artistic expression' – are different and how they intertwine

WA10ELIEX3

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating literature

Create and edit literary texts with a sustained 'voice', selecting and adapting text structures, literary devices, and language, auditory and visual features for purposes and audiences

For example:

- creating and editing a suite of short texts that focus on a key idea expressed in different voices
- composing an autobiographical narrative in the form of a digital story that incorporates written, visual and auditory features

WA10ELICR1

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Literacy

Texts in context

Analyse and evaluate how people, places, events and concepts are represented in texts and relate to contexts

For example:

- identifying stereotypes about Australia and Australian people in popular media and exploring how these representations are influenced by context

WA10ELYT1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Interacting with others

Listen to spoken texts and explain the purposes and effects of text structures and language features, and use interaction skills to discuss and present an opinion about these texts

For example:

- presenting opinions about a podcast or radio interview in a group discussion

WA10ELYI1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Analysing, interpreting and evaluating

Analyse and evaluate how language features are used to implicitly or explicitly represent values, beliefs and attitudes

For example:

- exploring the implicit and explicit values, beliefs and attitudes expressed and critiqued in social or political cartoons

WA10ELYA1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Ethical understanding

Analyse and evaluate how authors and creators use text structures to organise ideas and achieve a purpose

For example:

- evaluating how the organisation of ideas in a documentary achieves a purpose

WA10ELYA2

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking

Integrate comprehension strategies, such as visualising, predicting, connecting, summarising, monitoring, questioning and inferring, to analyse and interpret complex and abstract ideas when listening, reading and viewing

For example:

- interpreting how visual, written and audio features represent abstract concepts in advertising, such as the representation of parenthood
- watching or listening to a speech about the meaning of success and considering what the concept means to the viewer or listener

WA10ELYA3

Literacy Numeracy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Creating texts

Plan, create, edit and publish written and multimodal texts, organising, expanding and developing ideas through experimenting with text structures, language features, literary devices and multimodal features for specific purposes and audiences in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive, analytical and/or critical

WA10ELYC1

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability

Plan, create, rehearse and deliver spoken and multimodal presentations by experimenting with rhetorical devices, and the organisation and development of ideas, to engage audiences for different purposes in ways that may be imaginative, reflective, informative, persuasive, analytical and/or critical

WA10ELYC2

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Personal and social capability Intercultural understanding

Consolidate a personal handwriting style that is legible, fluent and automatic and supports writing for extended periods in relevant required contexts

WA10ELYC3

Literacy

Select, adapt and experiment with features of digital tools to create texts for a range of purposes and audiences

For example:

- creating two short radio or podcast interviews focusing on the same topic but for two different audiences
- creating a playlist of songs that is inspired by a written text using a digital platform or program, and writing a rationale justifying the choices of digital features

WA10ELYC4

Literacy Critical and creative thinking Digital literacy